Man allegedly violates bail conditions when charged with bloody beating

A Loudon man reportedly violated the conditions of his bail when he allegedly beat his girlfriend bloody, then threatened to cut her and her mother's heads off when her mother came to pick her up.

Ronnie Lynn Helton, 37, West Lee Highway, Loudon was charged with aggravated assault (domestic violence) and aggravated assault.

The report states, on Wednesday, around 11:16 PM, Sgt. Jimmey J. Wiggins, LCSO responded to a domestic violence call on West Lee Highway and upon arrival found a woman and her mother sitting in a van at the end of the driveway. Ronnie Helton was inside a trailer at the address.

Sgt. Wiggins, Sgt. AJ Yokely and Deputy Brad Rayfield, LCSO went to the trailer and knocked on the door. One of the officers saw Helton walk toward the back bedroom in the trailer. After several minutes he opened the door.

The glass window had been busted out of the front door and there was blood spatters on the couch, carpet and on the front porch of the residence.

Mr. Helton advised he and his girlfriend had been arguing because she wasn't supposed to be there. The woman locked him out of the house and he busted the window to get back in. He said he didn't hit her.

Deputy Wiggins went to speak to the complainant in the van. She was sitting in the passenger side. The woman had blood all over her face. She also had a place on her bottom lip that had been torn off, a swollen red area on her right cheek and temple and her top teeth seemed to be loose and bleeding.

The victim stated they were arguing at Helton's mother's house and he pushed her down and hit her. She called her mother and asked her to come and get her. Helton then carried the woman down the driveway from his mom's house to the trailer and threw her down onto the floor.

When the victim's mother arrived, she saw her daughter in the floor and tried to get her up. The victim's mother called Ronnie's mom's house to try and get assistance in getting her daughter. She went to the bedroom to get some of her daughter's clothes and when Helton came into the trailer he asked his girlfriend where her mom was and then told her mother to get out. He then hit his girlfriend several times in the head and face, causing lacerations, bruising and loose teeth.

At one point, Helton is accused of pulling a knife from his pocket and threatening to cut his girlfriend's and her mother's heads off. This caused the mother to fear for her and her daughter's life and safety. She was trying to get her daughter out of the trailer and into the van. When they walked out onto the front porch Helton pushed them both and threatened to cut their heads off again.

The women got in the van and drove down the driveway, where they called 911.

Ronnie Helton did have some red, swollen areas on his hands and knuckles and some minor bleeding. Ronnie Helton is under a condition of bail for a prior domestic violence arrest on his girlfriend.

Police Beat

Philip Dustin Standridge, 27, Central Avenue, Sweetwater was charged with DUI 1st offense.

The report states, on Sunday at around 5:10 AM, Officer Chris Lamons, LPD observed a silver Nissan drive out from Cobbs Auto Parts on Mulberry Street in Loudon. The vehicle traveled south with the headlights out.

The officer stopped the vehicle at Performance Muffler on Mulberry. Mr. Standridge had a strong odor of an intoxicant about his person and red blood-shot eyes.

Standridge stated he had not had anything to drink. Then he advised he drank one beer around midnight. Mr. Standridge performed poorly on field sobriety tasks.

Upon arrival at the jail, Mr. Standridge was read the implied consent and agreed. His BAC was .08%. Officer Bennie Houser, LPD made the arrest.

Perry Richard Henley, 49, homeless, was charged Sunday with criminal trespassing.

According to records, Corporal Pete McGinley, LCSO responded to a call at the T/A Truck Stop in reference to a trespasser. Upon arrival, the Corporal found Mr. Henley in a shower stall inside the truck stop.

Mr. Henley was at the T/A about 6:45 that morning and had reportedly assaulted a clerk with his pants down. Sgt. Wiggins, LCSO responded and took a report.

Sgt. Wiggins told Mr. Hensley not to be back on the T/A property and when he reappeared Corporal McGinley placed him under arrest.

McCord

According to the affidavit filed by Investigator Jason Smith, LCSO; on September 14th, 2009, a woman gave authorization to Lisa McCord to make a one time payment to Lenoir City Utility Board using her credit card number. Lisa McCord used her own phone and made the payment through LCUB's automated system. The woman stated when she received her credit card statement from the Bank of America it contained additional unauthorized charges to LCUB.

The statement showed on October 14th, a charge of $150 was applied, plus a $4.50 service fee, on October 24th, 2009, a charge of $177 was applied, again with a $4.50 fee and on November 6th, a charge of $135 was made and included the $4.50 fee.

Seven attempts to make payments were made between November 16th and November 18th. These seven payments were denied. A subpoena for the account number the charges were made to was issued to LCUB and information from LCUB revealed the account belonged to Antonio and Lisa McCord, White Wing Road.

Lisa McCord only had access to the credit card number for the victim's one time payment. The ten charges and or attempts were done without the woman's consent.

Deputy Olwin Norman, LCSO made the arrest Friday.

Meeting

at the Reelfoot Lake State Park.

The TWRC meeting begins at 1 p.m. on Jan. 21 with the committee meetings and starts at 9 a.m. on Jan. 22 with the regular meeting.

Among the items on January's agenda, the commission will receive an update on the 2010 Elk Hunt. TWRA officials are expected to make final recommendations concerning the 2010 elk hunt at February's TWRC meeting.

A report will be presented on the new Watchable Wildlife Web site which was launched Jan. 12. TWRA, in collaboration with the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Foundation, has launched the Watchable Wildlife Web site to promote watchable wildlife across the state, and the Bluebird License Plate, which funds Watchable Wildlife projects. The new Web site has a variety of new functionalities to assist individuals interested in watching wildlife, such as bird identification assistance, and information on where to view wildlife.

TWRA Executive Director, Ed Carter, will present a proposed restructure of the agency for the TWRC consideration.

At an earlier TWRC meeting, there were several proposals for new license types including a one-day non-resident fishing, and a one-day resident trout license. TWRA officials will review the proposals and also present information on implementing a new fishing guide license.

The TWRC serves as the governing body for the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. The public is invited to attend.

Unlicensed

Miguel Angel Gomez-Callejas, 25, Maple Street, Lenoir City was charged with driving without a license.

According to records, Deputy Chad Petty, LCSO saw a navy blue Mitsubishi Galant run the red light at Highways 321 and 11. Deputy Petty had prior knowledge that Mr. Callejas didn't have a valid drivers license.

The vehicle was stopped on Broadway and a check through NCIC by name and date of birth came back not on file for a drivers license.

Nocolas Zavala, 28, Pinetop Street, Loudon was charged with driving without a license.

The report states Patrolman Jason Felts, LCPD noticed a red Ford van run the red light at the intersection of Highways 11 and Highway 321. The officer stopped the vehicle and a check of his name and date of birth showed Mr. Zavala did not have a drivers license.

Alfredo Perez Hernandez, 18, Church Drive, Lenoir City was charged with driving without a license.

According to records, Patrolman Brandon Gentry, LCPD responded to a motor vehicle accident on Carrington Boulevard at Sable Court when Mr. Hernandez slid off the road and struck a light pole. Officer Gentry had dispatch run Mr. Hernandez's information through NCIC and it showed he did not have a drivers license.
