James Roy Fain Jr., a homeless man, was charged Tuesday with domestic violence assault.

According to records, Deputy Chris Bowen, LCSO was dispatched to Hickory Creek Road to a report of harassment where the assailant had already left on foot in an unknown direction of travel. The suspect, identified as Mr. Fain, was described as a white male wearing jeans, blue hooded zip up sweat shirt and brown shoes.

While en route to the residence, the deputy came in contact with a man matching the description on Hickory Creek Road. The man identified himself as James Roy Fain Jr. and Deputy Bowen escorted him back to the complainant's residence.

Upon arrival, the complainant stated Mr. Fain showed up at her residence saying he had a pair of pants there. She said she didn't let him come inside the house while she went to look for the pants. Upon locating them she also found a pair of shoes belonging to him.

When she returned to the door and gave him his things he became irate and started cussing her, throwing the shoes and threatening to beat all the windows out of her vehicle.

According to the deputy's report, he witnessed the shoes in two different locations in close proximity to the woman's vehicle.

Upon the initial contact with Fain on Hickory Creek Road, he admitted to being at the residence and having had a verbal confrontation with the victim. Deputy Bowen asked the victim if at any time during the verbal confrontation if she felt in fear of her safety or of bodily harm from Mr. Fain and she stated yes. The deputy determined Mr. Fain was the primary aggressor.

Maleena Ann Wilson, 29, Gay Street, Loudon was charged with domestic assault.

According to records, Patrolwoman April Farmer, LPD received a call in reference to a custody dispute on Upper Street. Officer Farmer was advised by dispatch to meet the female half of the dispute behind Calvary Baptist Church on Grove Street. The officer met with the female and identified her as Maleena Wilson.

Officer Farmer escorted Mrs. Wilson back to Upper Street where they made contact with the other party in the dispute, Mr. Wilson.

According to Officer Farmer's report, Mr. Wilson produced paperwork from the Loudon County Court stating the children were supposed to be in Mr. Wilson's custody.

Mrs. Wilson had the couple's daughter in the back seat of her vehicle. Officer Farmer advised Mr. Wilson to get his daughter out of the back seat. When Mr. Wilson was attempting to get the child out of the car Maleena Wilson ran toward him and grabbed him around the waist, attempting to keep him from getting the child.

Officer Farmer and Officer Brad Parks, LPD pulled Mrs. Wilson off Mr. Wilson and placed her under arrest for domestic assault.

Jonathan Trent 'Jon' Gardner, 28, Six Mile Road, Maryville was charged with violation of community corrections.
