Ah, don't you just love these blackberry summers? It was feeling like fall, so me and Delmar decided to head up to Toad's farm to do a bit of rat hunting. Figured that chum has been brewing for a month now and we might get lucky on some of those world class rats y'all hear us talk about.

Rhoades

for violation of probation

According to records, Officer Emily

Lawson, LCPD responded to a apartment on East 2nd Avenue in reference to a domestic disturbance and spoke with the victim at another apartment. According to the victim, her adult son, James Rhoades Jr., had been very intoxicated for several days and prior to her calling 911 they had gotten into an argument because she would not give him her car keys.

Mr. Rhoades became very angry that his mother hid the keys from him and began throwing shoes and other things at her. According to the officer's report, the victim had a large red area on both of her forearms where Mr. Rhoades grabbed her and held her while demanding the keys. There was also a red area on the front of her neck where he grabbed it during the brief altercation.

A neighbor in the adjoining apartment stated she heard what sounded like things being thrown into the wall then heard the victim scream and saw her fleeing the apartment while being chased by her son.

Officer Lawson reported she made contact with Mr. Rhoades, who was pretending to be asleep on the living room couch and when she woke him up he appeared to be extremely intoxicated. His speech was slurred and there was a very strong odor of alcohol emitting from his person.

Mr. Rhoades denied any knowledge of the events and was uncooperative. While checking for warrants, the officer discovered there was a warrant for Mr. Rhoades for violation of probation out of Loudon County.

He was placed under arrest and transported to jail.

Now killing the rats is purty easy; the hard part is finding someone who can do a decent mount on them.

I do appreciate having someone who does their job well and I don't mind putting in a plug for those type of folks every now and again, so any of y'all needing something mounted just call Honch Templeton down at Mantle Monster. His slogan is "We Mount Any and Everything, so You Kill it-We Fill It."

Now this here old boy is some kind of good I'm a telling you.

On a side note, guess who was out front of Toads farm? Yep, those Shame on Folks. These here people sure are persistent, but I will bet you a dollar to a doughnut come the end of June they won't be there. That chum will be at its paint peeling peak by that time...

Meeting

at 1 p.m. on May 19 and the commission meeting starts at 9 a.m. on May 20. The public is invited to attend.

TWRA officials previewed their recommendations for the 2010-11 hunting and trapping seasons at the commission's April meeting.

Among the recommendations presented at the April meeting, no changes were presented concerning deer season dates or to standard antlered and antlerless bag limits. The agency did propose to liberalize antlerless muzzleloader opportunities in six Unit B counties (Anderson, Claiborne, Grainger, Greene, Hancock, and Johnson) by moving them from the 5-day to the 14-day antlerless hunt.

TWRA is recommending the elimination of all special season deer quota hunts and creating comparable non-quota hunt opportunities. Regarding special fall turkey hunts, TWRA is proposing their elimination and creating comparable non-quota hunt opportunities. There would be no changes to the spring turkey dates or to the standard bag limits.

The TWRA is recommending that all feral hogs and wild boar will now be referred to as wild hogs. TWRA is recommending the elimination of internet check-in for bears to allow for better data collection and to improve the agency's enforcement capabilities.

The agency has proposed to the TWRC that hunters be required to check-in animals on the calendar day in which they are harvested.

TWRA is seeking to establish quota hunt drawings for waterfowl hunts on Bogota WMA, Gooch WMA Unit E, and Thorny Cypress WMA. The drawings would provide quality waterfowl hunting opportunities for more than 1,200 waterfowl hunters over the course of a 60-day duck season.

David McKinney, TWRA Environmental Services Division Chief, is going to ask the commission to consider a resolution to TVA requesting a comprehensive Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). The statement would be in regard to the off-site, in-state disposal of coal ash from Kingston and other TVA coal fired facilities.

Dean

at 9:10 PM, a Walmart Loss Prevention Officer saw Dean as she concealed numerous items in her purse without paying.

Dean also pushed a shopping cart full of unpaid merchandise past all points of sale.

The items included clothing, jewelry, and personal hygiene items. The merchandise totaled $178.96.

Officer Jeremy Dishner, LCPD made the arrest.

Police Beat

Maston Robert West, 29, Trigon Road, Greenback was charged Wednesday with driving on revoked license.

According to reports, while on patrol Deputy Craig Brewer, LCSO saw a black Ford F-150 coming at him on Highway 95 north in Greenback. The truck was traveling at a high rate of speed with radar showing 64 mph in a 40 mph zone.

Deputy Brewer stopped the vehicle on Craigs Chapel Road and identified the driver and only occupant as Maston West. A drivers license check came back revoked in Tennessee.

Nicholas James

Young, 46, Collins Street, Loudon was charged with violation of probation.

Deputy Michael Wilson, LCSO made the arrest Sunday at the Roane County Jail.

son while they were on the job.

Hobart Eugene Divine, 43, Red Hill Drive, Louisville was charged with harassment.

According to an affidavit filed by Detective Jack Fine, LCPD; and according to the victim, on May 1st, 2010, at approximately 6:51 PM, Hobart Divine called the victim at the victim's place of business, Lenoir City Ford, and while talking to the victim on the phone stated, "You know who this is, I'm about to beat your (expletive)."

Divine then called back again, on the same day and asked to talk to the victim. The victim gave the phone to the witness to verify Hobart Divine's voice.

The call was made at an inconvenient time and at the victim's place of business and annoyed and alarmed the victim.

Deputy Michael Wilson, LCSO, made the arrest Wednesday at the Blount County Jail.

Checks

several hundred dollars.

According to reports Ms. Glenda Crawley of Steekee Creek Road, Loudon went to the Justice Center Tuesday to report three of her checks had been cashed without her authorization.

Investigator Jason Smith, LCSO-CID noted on his report Ms. Crawley also stated the checks had been forged.

The first check was written April 4th,

2010 and made out to a female for $60. The second check was written April 13th, 2010, to Ms. Crawley's granddaughter for the amount of $60. The third check was written April 14th, 2010, also to Ms. Crawley's granddaughter, for $80. All three checks had been cashed at a ORNL Credit Union in Oak Ridge.

Ms. Crawley said she didn't give anyone permission to write the checks and it was done without her knowledge. The total amount of the loss was $200. The investigation is ongoing.

Police Beat

Travis Jerome Cozart, 35, Ivy Avenue, Lenoir City was charged Saturday with driving on suspended license and possession of drug paraphernalia.

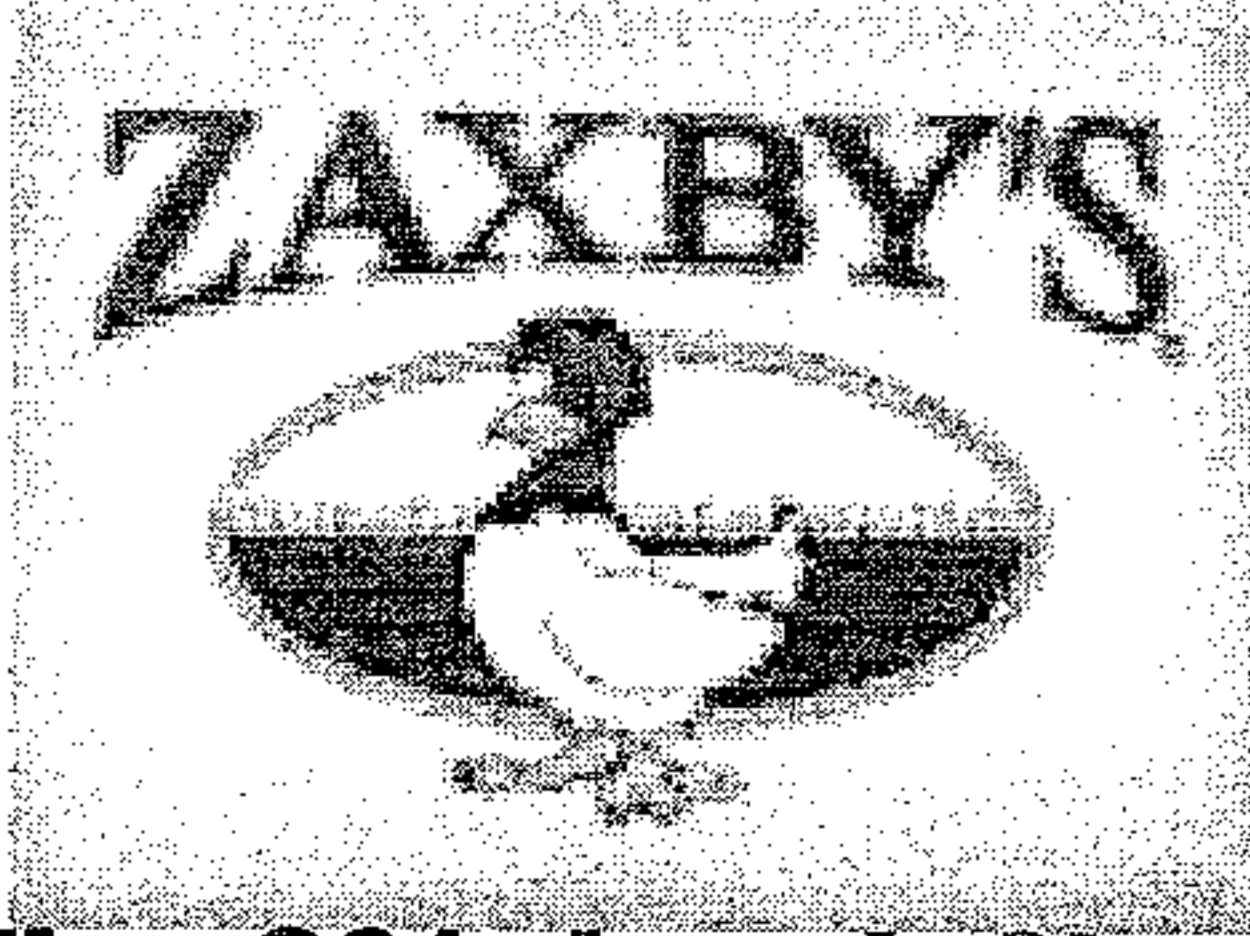

According to reports, Deputy Michael Watkins, LCSO observed a white Ford Explorer traveling on Industrial Boulevard in Lenoir City with an expired license plate. The deputy made a traffic stop and identified the driver as Travis Cozart, noting he had prior knowledge Cozart's license were suspended.

A check through NCIC confirmed the suspension.

After a brief conversation with Cozart, Deputy Watkins deployed K9 Denero to perform a drug sniff of the vehicle and Denero alerted. A search of the vehicle produced a silver pipe with burn marks and burnt Choreboy stuffed in the end, with residue on it used in the consumption of crack cocaine from a pocket on the driver's side of the console.

Mr. Cozart told Deputy Brian Smith he'd hidden the pipe because he didn't want to go to jail. He also received a warning for expired registration.
