Texts tell the tale on alleged pill trafficker

A Philadelphia man's text messages reportedly gave him away as a pill trafficker when the vehicle he was a passenger in was stopped and officers found his newly filled prescription was over forty pills short.

David Randle Lawson, 46, West Lee Highway, Philadelphia was charged Monday with possession of schedule II for resale and driving on revoked.

The report states Mr. Lawson was driving a Nissan Altima on Interstate 75 north when he was stopped at the 72 mile marker for a window tint violation. (see Lawson pg. 3) lation and a seat belt violation on the passenger. A check of his license revealed his privileges were revoked on March 9th, 2005.

A pat down of Lawson produced a pill bottle containing 15 schedule II endocet pills. The prescription was filled the same day, Monday, August 30th, 2010 and 45 pills were missing.

David Lawson gave consent for a search of his cell phone. A text message was found that indicated the trafficking of prescription medication.

Trooper Kelly Smith, THP made the arrest.

Police Beat

Nicholas Sherman Hatfield, 22, Torbetts Road, Madisonville was charged with DUI 1st offense.

According to records, officers were running stationary radar on Interstate 75 southbound Sunday, around 3:40 am, when a gray Buick SLG passed, doing 78 mph in a 65 mph zone. The vehicle was stopped at the 80 mile marker and the driver identified as Nicholas S. Hatfield.

Hatfield had a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage on his person and bloodshot eyes. Mr. Hatfield stated he had 9 beers prior to being stopped and performed poorly on field sobriety tasks. He was placed under arrest and read the Tennessee implied consent law and agreed. Mr. Hatfield was transported to Fort Loudoun ER for blood alcohol and then on to the jail.

Harold Edward Cansler, 53, US Highway 11 South, Maryville was charged with public intoxication.

According to an affidavit filed by Officer John Hunt, TVA Police, on Sunday Harold Edward Cansler was arrested for public intoxication on TVA property near Morganton Boat Ramp in Loudon County.

Officer Hunt was dispatched to the area in reference to a man causing some sort of disturbance. The officer observed Mr. Cansler lying on the ground in a camp site near the water.

Mr. Cansler was very unsteady on his feet and smelled of alcohol.

Officer Hunt made the arrest.

Hannah Ruth Nelson, 32, Long Hollow Road, Maryville was charged Monday with driving on suspended license.

According to reports, Deputy Rondel Brannam, LCSO observed a blue Hyundai traveling north on Morganton Road and the driver was not wearing a seat belt. The deputy stopped the vehicle and identified the driver as Hannah Ruth Nelson by her Tennessee drivers license.

A check through NCIC came back suspended for failure to provide evidence of financial responsibility.

Deputy Rondel Brannam made the arrest.

Yale associates will be hosting a GIANT Yard Sale to benefit the American Diabetes Association (ADA). Each year, Yale associates participate in the ADA's Step-Out Walk to help raise funds for diabetes research. Last year, the company had 35 associates walking in the Step-Out Walk and helped to raise over $3500. So far this year, 70 associates signed up for the walk.

The combination GIANT Yard Sale, Car Wash, & Bake Sale will be open to the public and will be held on the factory's front lawn located off Broadway / C Street at 100 Yale Ave, Lenoir City TN. The Yard Sale idea comes from Lesa Williams, one of Yale's associates. Lesa explained that she wanted to do something special since finding out that her five-year old great-niece was recently diagnosed with juvenile diabetes.

Lesa added that all the associates have been working very hard in bringing in items to sell, sorting them, and pricing them in recent weeks. Volunteer Team Captains in each department have been very successful in getting all 270 associates to contribute in some way to the GIANT Yard Sale. She commented that we will have "tons of bargains" in every category - clothing, household goods, toys, books, etc.

was charged with aggravated assault.

According to an affidavit filed by Investigator Jason Smith, LCSO-CID; on Sunday, August 22nd, 2010, a Town Creek Circle, Lenoir City man stated he got into an argument on the telephone with Jimmy Henderson's mother, who told him her son was coming to his residence.

The man said he received a phone call from the woman's son, Jimmy Derek Henderson, asking him to come outside. The victim said when he walked out of his residence Jimmy Henderson came toward him with nun chucks. He further advised he was struck in the leg and back with the nun chucks.

The lawman reported the victim and visible marks of the assault on his upper back and leg.

The victim's girlfriend called 911 and Mr. Henderson fled the scene before officers arrived. Deputy Charles Butler, LCSO made the arrest Monday. Fall Creek Falls State Park Announces Mountaineer Folk Festival Annual Mountaineer

Folk Festival, slated for Sept. 10-12.

NASHVILLE –Fall Creek Falls State Park will host its 32nd Annual Mountaineer Folk Festival Sept. 10-12, offering a weekend of traditional music, country cooking, pioneer skills demonstrations and more than 100 craft booths.

"This is an outstanding festival that celebrates the heritage of the Cumberland Plateau with great music, food and fun for the whole family," said Jim Hall, park manager. "With special events planned throughout the weekend, the Mountaineer Folk Festival offers a wide range of cultural and educational opportunities for all ages."

The three-day festival kicks off Friday, Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. with an old-fashioned square dance and jam session, with music provided by the Blue Creek Ramblers and the Roan Mountain Hilltoppers. The old-time train music of Roy Harper will add to the opening night's fun.

Beginning at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 11, will be pioneer demonstrations, music and storytelling, in addition to crafts and food booths. Storytelling, music and demonstrations will continue on Sunday, Sept. 12, with crafts and food booths officially opening at 10 a.m. On Sunday, special musical guest Norman Blake – well-known guitar picker and singer and noted for his performance on the Emmy-winning soundtrack of "O'Brother, Where Art Thou?" – will play at approximately 2 p.m. Other Sunday performers will be Leroy Troy, the Rigney Family, Hickory Wind, the West Girls and Still House, with other groups and singers playing throughout the day.

Pioneer demonstrations will include sorghum making, sheep herding, blacksmithing, spinning and soap making among other time-honored skills. Wagon and pony rides will be conducted both days. A civil war encampment will feature cannon firing and drills. Two stages will highlight both music and storytelling, with several groups and individual performers sharing a variety of music. In the Park Village area, over 100 craft booths will display an array of handmade wares, including woodworking, folk art, soaps and candles, leatherworks and basket weaving. Tempting visitors' taste buds, local non-profit groups will be on hand to serve homestyle country cooking, offering many menu options.

The event is free and open to the public, though optional donations benefiting Friends of Fall Creek Falls can be made at festival entry points. The event is co-sponsored by Fall Creek Falls State Park, the Tennessee Arts Commission and Friends of Fall Creek Falls, an organization focused on preserving the natural and cultural riches of the park.

Fall Creek Falls State Park is a 22,500-acre paradise in the eastern Cumberland Plateau. Located just 40 miles south of Cookeville and 65 miles north of Chattanooga, the park offers incredible scenic beauty and recreational opportunities. Beautiful waterfalls, tremendous canyons and dense forests are protected within the park's boundaries. Visitors will find a 250-site campground, a hotel and conference center, an award-winning golf course and 30 cabins among the park's many amenities. Readers of Better Homes and Gardens and Southern Living voted the park one of the most popular family destinations.

For more information about the 32nd Annual Mountaineer Folk Festival, please call the Betty Dunn Nature Center at (423) 881-5708. Call the Tennessee State Parks reservation line toll free at 1-800-250-8610 to make a reservation at the park's inn or visit the park's Web site at www.tnstateparks.com/FallCreekFalls.

time, money and gifts, we are able to make Christmas a more joyful time for more and more children. In 2009, approximately 800 children were helped by the Loudon County Sheriff's Department Toys for Tots program through their partners. Even with the difficult economic times we are experiencing, we hope that the people of Loudon County will be there once again to help.

Beginning Monday, September 6, 2010 applications will be available at the Loudon County Sheriffs Department and the Department of Human Services in Lenoir City. Applications will be accepted for children from birth through 8th grade.

ALL applications must be returned to the Loudon County

Sheriff's Department by October 15, 2010. It is requested that everyone please submit their application as soon as possible. Applications must also include a copy of the parent or guardian's 2009 Federal Income Tax Return showing the children as their dependents. Anyone that received gifts from the program in 2009 received information about this year's requirements.

Names will be available in late October through business and churches. If your business or church would be willing to take names please call Debbie Hines, Toys for Tots Coordinator at 988-2300.

3rd DORL, more for local man

Nathaniel Wayne Crass, 25, Abbott Road, Lenoir City was charged Friday with driving on revoked 3rd offense, possession of drug paraphernalia and violation of probation.

Crass

According to reports, Deputy Michael Watkins, LCSO noticed a gray Nissan Pathfinder pass him on Highland Avenue and the driver acted like he was hiding his face. The deputy fell in behind the Pathfinder and it immediately turned onto Riverview Road. The license plate came back registered to a red Mazda MPV.

Deputy Watkins pulled the vehicle over and the driver said he was Nathaniel Crass and he didn't have a drivers license. NCIC showed Crass' license to be revoked with two prior driving on revoked convictions.

The deputy deployed his K9 partner Denero to perform a drug sniff of the vehicle and he alerted to the driver's door area. A search of the vehicle found marijuana residue and a hypodermic needle with white powder residue and a small amount of unknown liquid inside it in between the driver and passenger seat. Mr. Crass stated the needle was his. He also received a citation for registration violation.

Police Beat

Nicolas Zavala - Hernandez, 29, Pine Top

Street, Loudon was charged with no drivers license and window tint.

According to reports, Mr. Hernandez was driving a red Ford Windstar on West Broadway Sunday around 2:14 PM, when he was stopped for a window tint violation.

Upon checking his drivers license status it was discovered Hernandez was unlicensed.

Sgt. Eddie Range, LCPD made the arrest.
