Aggravated Harassment burglary reported

Deputy Brian Smith LCSO, did respond to Meadow Road West in Loudon County for a call of a Burglary. Upon arrival I made contact with Victim. The victim stated to this officer she left her house around 10:30 am and returned at 5:30 pm. Victim stated to this officer she found her two dogs outside and they were inside when she left home. The victim then stated she found her front door kicked open and propped up in the hallway. The victim then Deputy Brewer met the victim at the 72 Market in reference to a harassment. On arrival victim told me that the suspect was texting him and making threats to him. On looking at the text from the phone number from the suspect he had stated he would come and mess him up and that he would kill him. These where in a short amount of time during the afternoon. Deputy Brewer advised him not to talk to them and keep a log of what was sent and when. The Victim states he has taken reports for this in South Carolina over the same thing from the suspect and his friend.

"Soups On" by CAC takes a lot of help

IT TAKES A VILLAGE. On January 22nd, 'Kids First' Child Advocacy Center (CAC) held its 9th annual "Soup's On" event at the Tellico Village Community Church. Ten years ago, board member Norma Racke suggested the idea for this fundraiser to be held annually in January, the best time for a soup dinner. Norma wanted the community to get to know the staff of the CAC and learn more about what the Center does for the community. Since then, the event continues to be a favorite of the residents of Tellico Village and the surrounding communities of Loudon County. The dinner featured four soups, venison chili, bread and cookies, all homemade by some 75 volunteers in the community. Wampler's donated sausage for the popular Blackfoot Potato soup and local hunters shared their venison for the Hunters chili. In addition to the 75 cooks, another 65 people worked during the event, for a total of over 140 volunteers to make this fundraiser a success.

That's why it takes a village. This year's event was dedicated to Norma & Jack Racke who have given tirelessly to the CAC. Thanks to the dedication of many volunteers and the 600 plus people who attended 'Soup's On', the children of this community will continue to receive the much needed services provided by 'Kids First' Child Advocacy Center.
