Nicholas Adkins, 27, Peppertree Lane Knoxville, was charged with Public Intoxication, Criminal Trespass, Resisting Arrest, and Assault. Officer Jonathan Yates LPD, responded to River Bend in Loudon in reference to an unwanted guest. Upon arrival Officer was met by the victim. Victim stated that his friend Nicholas Adkins had been in a physical altercation with him.

Victim took all other parties home and then called the police because Adkins was still combative and would not leave. Officer stood by as the victim ask Nicholas to leave. Nicholas was verbally abusive towards victim and Officer. Nicholas was extremely intoxicated, and failure to comply, slurred speech, and unsteady on his feet. Officer attempted to handcuff Nicholas for trespass and Nicholas resisted by pulling from the Officer and not complying with Officer commands. Nicholas fell and continued to resist while on the ground. Taser was deployed then Nicholas complied with Officer and was then cuffed. Officer received a laceration to his hand during Nicholas's reckless behavior. Nicholas continued to make threatening remarks on the way to jail and fought with jailers and had to be restrained in the pro restraint chair. Officer Jonathan Yates LPD, made the arrest.

found by experiencing God through the outdoors, another would like to go to heaven but is afraid he can't comply with the "rules" of being a Christian, one lady is seeking rescue from an addiction to pain medication but doesn't really want to stop taking pills and cling to Jesus and another is part of a family of a completely different faith and knows that her family may turn their back on her if she chooses to follow Christ.

Maybe your story is like one of these. Maybe there is a completely different reason that you have not placed your faith in Christ. Maybe you think that acknowledging the existence of God is sufficient. Regardless of why you have chosen to reject Christ up to this point in your life, there is one fact that we cannot avoid; the end of life for each of us will one day come and we must then spend eternity dealing with the consequences of our decision regarding Jesus.

Joel Olsteen will tell you that there is more than one way to get to heaven. (Look up the interview he did with Larry King). He, and others, will tell you that if we acknowledge God in our lives that we will have health, wealth and prosperity. Some religions will tell you that if you are good to other people that you will inherit eternal life and if you were not that good on earth, well, others can pray you into heaven. There is an old Tennessee term that I will use to respond to those folks.... HAWGWASH!!

As I stated last week, my faith, my hope, my salvation and every comment that I have written for the last three and a half years are consistent with the Holy Bible. Any pastor, preacher, priest or holy roller teaching a doctrine not consistent with God's Word is not of God and may possibly lead unsuspecting persons straight to an eternity in the fiery pits of Hell. (I know, nobody wants to hear about Hell anymore!) With that being said, there are a couple of verses that you should be familiar with if you have not accepted Jesus into your heart and life. Ready? Here we go!

ferred once to bear the sins of many. To those who eagerly wait for Him he will appear a second time, apart from sin, for salvation.

Every one of us must face death sooner or later and there be judged for our decision regarding Christ. Since the day that Adam and Eve sinned against God by eating the forbidden fruit, we have all been born with a sin nature. We are not deserving of God's love, nor do we have the ability to live without sin. We are all sinners and our accumulated sin warrants even our own death. This is why God sent His only Son to earth as both God and man. Jesus came to earth to show us that He is the Son of God and that salvation can only be obtained through Him. The Old Testament is full of prophesy concerning Jesus' life, death and resurrection and the New Testament documents His life, ministry, death, burial, resurrection and instructions for the fruitful life of believers.

When Jesus came to earth a little over 2000 years ago, He lived without sin, something we are incapable of. He then allowed Himself to be crucified in a horrible way and take our sins upon Himself so that we may obtain forgiveness of our own sins and establish a relationship with God Himself. What made this possible was not just the death of Christ for our sins, but the fact that on the third day God raised Him from the dead and He was seen by many people for about fifty or so days. Jesus even told us in Luke 19:10 that He "Came to seek and to save that which was lost". This was and IS His mission!

Romans 3:23 For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God.

Romans . 5:6-8 For when we were without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet perhaps for a good man some might die. But God demonstrates His own love for us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Romans 6:23 For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

When you hear someone refer to "sharing the gospel", this is exactly what that means. It means telling others that Jesus loves them, He died for their sins and He wants to have a relationship with them. So how exactly does one do this?

Romans 10:9-10 That if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made into salvation.

Once we have made a decision to follow Christ, when we truly believe in Him and confess Him as our Lord and Savior, Jesus changes everything about us from the inside out. We don't just say a prayer, check a box and consider ourselves done. This is a common mistake made by many new Christians (including me for a long time) that leads you away from Christ and not directly into the peace, joy and happiness that

He has for you and that Angie and I experience now. Trusting in Christ is the start of a living, breathing relationship that starts from the moment we accept Him and lasts for eternity. Jesus doesn't just want to save us, He wants to know us, He wants to change us, He wants to bless us and have an active role in our lives! He wants to use us to "share the gospel" with others so they too might receive eternal salvation through faith in Him.

Next week I will discuss some ways to really enjoy the relationship we have with Jesus and how to see that relationship grow. I will discuss how to access His awesome power to help you with the struggles of life and the temptations that face each of us.

If you have never made the decision to accept Jesus as Lord and Savior of your life and would like to hear more, I can be reached at www.tgnmissions.com or by calling (865) 304-6779 in the evenings. None of us are promised tomorrow and Jesus could very well return tonight! When God begins knocking on the door of your heart you will know it. I pray that when He does, you will open your heart to Jesus and begin a new life, a rewarding and joyful life.... An eternal life with Him!

Police beat

Amanda Johnson, 34, Riggs Street Athens, was charged with DUI. Deputy Chris Bowen LCSO, was dispatched to I 75 North to the report of a reckless/impaired driver. Dispatch stated that the suspect vehicle was a Ford Expedition. Upon arrival to the 76 exit North entrance ramp. Deputy saw the suspect vehicle pass and got in behind the vehicle. Deputy verified tag through dispatch and followed the vehicle North. The vehicle had a hard time staying in its own travel lane. Deputy then activated his emergency equipment and attempted to traffic stop the vehicle. The vehicle continued North at which time Deputy activated my sirens and changed tones. The driver then after approx. 1/2 mile pulled to the side. Deputy then approached the vehicle and stated to the driver, Ms. Johnson, they had several complainants of her erratic driving and asked her was there any reason for her driving actions. Amanda stated that she had not been driving that way. Deputy then asked her license and to locate her registration and proof of insurance. Deputy then run a check of Amanda license through NCIC then asked the defendant to exit the vehicle and step to the front of the patrol car. Deputy then asked her if she was on any medications that may impair her ability to drive which she stated no. Amanda then stated that she was only taking blood pressure medicine and birth control. Deputy then asked for consent to search the vehicle. Which she agreed to. Upon a search of the vehicle Deputy located a black purse containing medications. Deputy then asked her to perform a series of field sobriety tasks, which she performed poorly on. Deputy then placed the defendant under arrest for Driving Under the Influence 1st offense. Deputy then read her implied consent and she agreed to take the test. She was then transported to the FSLMC for blood draw. Then transported to the Loudon County Jail. Deputy Chris Bowen LCSO, made the arrest.

Former Jellico City Recorder Took Nearly $100,000 in Public Funds for Personal Use

A former city recorder in the Campbell County town of Jellico took at least $96,449.62 in public funds for her own personal use, an investigation by the Comptroller's office has found.

The former recorder, Linda Douglas, misspent the town's money in a variety of ways over the two-year period examined by investigators. She pocketed about $80,000 worth of cash and checks collected from Jellico citizens. She also received unauthorized payroll checks and was reimbursed for unauthorized travel expenses and fuel purchases.

Douglas was able to take the money because she was given sole responsibility for receiving checks and cash, maintaining accounting records and depositing the money she collected.

Good accounting practices require those duties be divided among multiple employees so they are able to double-check each other's work.

Investigators shared their findings with the local district attorney general. Last month, the Campbell County Grand Jury indicted Douglas on charges of theft over $60,000 and official misconduct.

The investigation also documented more than $16,000 worth of questionable expenses made by various employees over the same two-year time period. These included fuel purchases, items bought from vendors and credit card expenses that investigators could not determine were related to city business.

The investigative report, which was released today, noted a number of other problems with Jellico's accounting and management practices, including poor recordkeeping of financial transactions, deficiencies in purchasing procedures and a lack of written policies for garbage fee collections and cellular telephone use by city employees.

"It is very troubling to me that our investigators identified so many issues with the way the city of Jellico is being run," said Comptroller Justin P. Wilson. "The city has had its share of financial problems over the last few years and those problems have been made worse by questionable spending and outright misappropriation of public funds. I hope city officials will take the corrective steps we have suggested in our report to reduce the likelihood these problems will happen again in the future."

To view the investigation online, go to: <http://www.comptroller.tn.gov/ia/>.

If you suspect fraud, waste or abuse of public money in Tennessee, you may call the Comptroller's hot line at 1-800-232-5454 or fill out a report online at <http://www.comptroller.tn.gov/shared/safwa.asp>.
