subsequent conviction of Kincaid and co-defendants resulted from a lengthy investigation by the Internal Revenue Service – Criminal Investigation, Fifth Judicial Drug Task Force, and Drug Enforcement Administration. The pain clinic ceased operations when it was raided by federal and local law enforcement agents in December 2010, where agents seized significant quantities of prescription narcotic pain pills, firearms, and nearly $700,000 in cash.

“The Federal Sentencing Guidelines provide suggested ranges of incarceration for those who are found guilty of violating federal law, including the most serious offenders. Kincaid disbursed highly addictive drugs to many people over a long period of time. Thanks to the intense and cooperative work of the federal, state and local agencies who investigated this case, she received a lengthy sentence for her criminal conduct,” said U.S. Attorney Bill Killian.

Assistant U.S. Attorneys Jennifer Kolman and Frank M. Dale, Jr. represented the United States during the trial and sentencing.

Tonya Owens, 33, Industrial Blvd. Lenoir City, was charged with DUI, and Simple Possession. On 08/17/2014, Deputy Chris Hutchens LCSO, did observe a vehicle traveling south on Hwy 11 coming over the hill between Old Stage road, and Strange road. The vehicle came very close to the rear bumper of a vehicle in front of it, to the point the headlights disappeared and then swerved left and right multiple times across the rear bumper of the vehicle, without making contact. Deputy did stop the vehicle and identified the driver as Ms. Tonya Owens, Ms. Owens stated that she was playing with her phone and was not paying attention. A strong odor of alcoholic beverage was emitting from the vehicle and Owens did state she was coming from downtown Knoxville, and that she had been drinking. Ms. Owens was asked to exit the vehicle, and she was also asked for consent to search the vehicle, which she did give. Inside the glove box was found a Blunt wrapper with a clear plastic baggie corner tied around a small amount of marijuana. Owens was asked to perform Standardized Field Sobriety and she did perform poorly. Owens was arrested and advised of the Tennessee Implied Consent Law to which she did agree to give a blood test. She was then transported to the Fort Loudoun Hospital by Deputy Ketner, and was then transported from there to the Loudon County Jail. Deputy Chris Hutchens LCSO, made the arrest.
