last two years more than 117,000 Tennessee students have had a purposeful conversation about going to college," Haslam said.

Seniors that applied for the Tennessee Promise will now be required to participate in two mandatory meetings, submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and complete eight hours of community service.

In 2014, more than 58,000 students applied, and according to the Tennessee Student Assistance Corporation (TSAC), 15,830 students from the graduating high school class of 2015 are using Tennessee Promise benefits this fall, which is the first year of implementation.

Community colleges across the state also report substantial growth, with the number of students enrolling full time in community college directly after high school increasing by 14 percent since last fall. As a result of Tennessee Promise, Tennessee leads the nation in FAFSA completion, comprising 40 percent of the entire country's growth in FAFSA filings in 2015.

Haslam also encouraged adults to sign up to be mentors for Tennessee Promise students before the November 20 deadline by visiting <http://tnpromise.gov/>.

"We know that access to college is important, but even more important is success. The process of applying and attending college can seem daunting, especially for first generation college students, and having a caring adult to help guide you can make a big difference," Haslam said.

Proposed by Haslam and passed by the General Assembly in 2014,

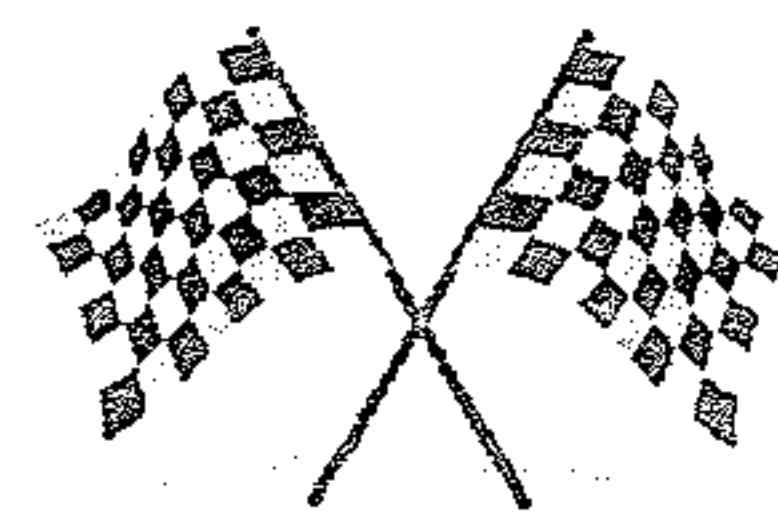

Tennessee Promise is a key component of Haslam's Drive to 55 initiative to increase the number of Tennesseans with a postsecondary credential to 55 percent by the year 2025.

Richard McCollum, 38, Summer Street Loudon, was charged with Domestic Assault.

Deputy Jeremy Garland LCSO, responded to Forest Heights Circle in reference to a domestic assault. Upon arrival, deputies made contact with the victim. The victim was very shaken up and crying during initial contact.

She did have several marks on her arms, stomach, and knees. She also had blood on her shirt and legs. The victim stated that as her and her boyfriend, Richard McCollum, were taking the kids to school and began to argue. She stated he began driving recklessly while pulling her hair. ing her purse against the windshield until it cracked. The victim advised me that as they returned to the house they continued to fight and she attempted to leave. putting his hands on the victim or throwing rocks at her. He did state that he punched the gear shift in the vehicle and there was blood where he advised he hit it. The windshield was also cracked from the impact of the purse. Mr. McCollum was determined to be the primary aggressor due to the physical marks on victim and she was in fear of further bodily injuries. The defendant was taken into custody on the scene and transported to the Loudon County Jail without incident. All the above did occur in Loudon County, TN. Deputy Jeremy Garland LCSO, made the arrest.

fied as Kristen Watters and her two children age 8 and 4. Mrs. Watters originally stated that a deer ran out into the road and she swerved to avoid striking it then she changed the story to she had slick tires and that she slid on the wet road. The road was not wet at this time. Mrs. Watters appeared to me to be under the influence of something and she had the odor of an intoxicating beverage on her breath. She was also unsteady on her feet and her speech was slurred. She was asked to attempt to do some field sobriety testing at which point she complied and the HGN was attempted and she did have a noticeable nystagmus. She then attempted the one leg stand and the heel to toe walk and turn and she was unable to satisfactorily complete the SFST. Mrs. Watters was taken into custody and the implied consent law was explained to her and she did consent to a BAT. She was transported to Fort Loudoun Hospital for the BAT then transported to the Loudon County Jail. All the above did occur in Loudon County. Deputy Ronnie Reagan LCSO, made the arrest.

Loudon County Sheriff's Office Toys for Tots 2015

Thanks to the generosity year after year of the Loudon County residents, churches, businesses and industries, the Loudon County Sheriff's Office is once again able to offer the Toys for Tots program. We are beginning our 31st year of providing toys to the needy children of Loudon County, and thanks to generous contributions of time, money and gifts, we are able to make Christmas a more joyful time for more and more children. In 2014, approximately 500 children were helped by the Loudon County Sheriff's Department Toys for Tots program through their partners. Even with the difficult economic times we are experiencing, we hope that the people of Loudon County will be there once again to help.

Names will be available beginning in mid-October through business and churches. If you are considering helping a child this Christmas, please be assured that applicants are thoroughly checked to make sure they require this assistance. Names are also compared with the school systems to make sure no one is receiving duplicate assistance.

If your business or church would be willing to take names please call Debbie Hines, Toys for Tots Coordinator at 986-4823.
