Child Advocacy Center of the 9th Judicial District Partners with prevent child abuse Tennessee to Promote Happy, Healthy Childhoods

More than 175 businesses across Tennessee are participating in Child Abuse Prevention Month, as proclaimed by Governor Bill Haslam, as part of Prevent Child Abuse Tennessee's (PCAT's) Pinwheels for Prevention campaign. PCAT and its community partners are stepping up campaign activities during April in recognition of National Child Abuse

Prevention Month.

In support of local campaign efforts, PCAT and partners are planting pinwheel gardens around the state, providing educational materials for parents and advocates, and broadcasting public service announcements to highlight the fact that investing in effective in less costly to society, and to individuals, than trying to fix things later.

Mullins sentenced to serve 151 months for A-PVP "Gravel" Distribution Conspiracy

On Mar. 26, 2015, Phillip Wayne Mullins, 39, of Kingsport, Tenn., was sentenced by the Honorable R. Leon Jordan, U.S. District Judge, to serve 151 months in federal prison for his role in an extensive a-PVP (alpha-pyrrolidinopentiophenone) distribution conspiracy centered around the Sullivan County area. A-

PVP is a synthetic drug which is commonly referred to on the street as "gravel." Mullins will serve this federal sentence consecutive to a previously ordered state sentence for manufacturing methamphetamine.

According to the plea agreement on file with the district court clerk's office, Mullins admitted that he conspired to distribute and was accountable for a conservative estimate of 5,500 grams of a-PVP, to a large number of customers and other dealers in and around the Eastern District of Tennessee. The plea agreement also provided a stipulation by Mullins that he had traded firearms for a-PVP.

U.S. Attorney William C. Killian stated, "Gravel is a very dangerous and harmful substance. We are pleased with this significant sentence because it reflects the seriousness of the crimes committed."

Law enforcement agencies participating in the investigation which led to the indictment and subsequent conviction of Mullins include the Drug Enforcement Administration, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Department of Homeland Security Investigations, Sullivan County Sheriff's Office, Kingsport Police Department, Hawkins “Ensuring children have the opportunity to grow up in a safe, healthy environment is everyone’s responsibility. The pinwheel is a reminder that we all play a role in the future of our children,” said Kristen Rector, executive director of Prevent Child Abuse Tennessee. “Children deserve to grow up feeling safe, nurtured, and loved, and the pinwheel gardens planted across the state of Tennessee this April show our commitment to families in the communities where we work and live every day.”

Local Lenoir City business, Child Advocacy Center of the 9th Judicial District, will participate in planting their own garden to advocate for children deserving of a happy, healthy childhood in Tennessee.

Prevent Child Abuse Tennessee’s (PCAT) mission is to prevent the abuse and neglect of children in Tennessee. For 30 years, PCAT has worked with communities and local partners to support parents in raising happy, healthy children. Our programs are provided in collaboration with community partners to strengthen families and reduce the risks of child abuse and neglect. Wanda Sobieski to discuss A Call to Action by President Jimmy Carter

Knox County Public Library’s Books Sandwiched In lunch and learn program to be held on April 15

The ‘most serious and unaddressed worldwide challenge’ is the deprivation and abuse of women and girls caused by ‘false interpretations’ of religious texts and the growing tolerance for violence. So concludes President Jimmy Carter in his most recent book A Call to Action: Women, Religion, Violence and Power. Join Knoxville Attorney Wanda Sobieski for the discussion Wednesday, April 15, noon - 1:00 pm, in the East Tennessee History Center auditorium, 601 South Gay Street, at this month’s Books Sandwiched In, a program series of Knox County Public Library.

In A Call to Action, Carter addresses the world’s most serious, pervasive, and ignored violation of basic human rights: the ongoing discrimination and violence against women and girls. He offers strong and unforgiving critique of countries whose practices reveal systematic women abuse, but who present a different image to the world.

“Carter makes a well-documented argument that the worst of prejudice, discrimination, wars, violence, distorted interpretations of religious texts, physical and mental abuse, poverty and disease fall disproportionately on women and girls,” Sobieski says. “He concludes with a ‘Call to Action’ list of 23 very specific steps we can take individually and/or collectively to address this worldwide challenge.”

Sobieski joined Baker, Worthington, Crossley, Stansberry & Woolf law firm in 1982, and was honored to become the first woman partner silver vehicle, with no one around it. Deputy then made contact with Nicholas Adkins inside the Complainant vehicle. Deputy Chris Hutchens deployed his K-9 partner Dante, and after being given several verbal commands Nicholas did surrender to the K-9 and was taken into custody. Nicholas had a strong odor of alcohol red watery eyes and slurred speech, and had to have help from the Deputy to the patrol vehicle. Once Nicholas was placed in the patrol car he became very abusive kicking the window of the patrol car. Nicholas was restrained with a set of leg shackles to prevent him from injuring himself. Deputy Charlie Huskin LCSO, made the arrest.

Elijah Morgan, 37, Foster Road Lenoir City, was charged with Poss. of SCH. III, and Poss. of Prescription Unlawful. Deputy Lance Anderson, along with Deputy Branson, responded to Melton Hill Dam in reference to a possible armed person trying to force his way into the vehicle of passing motorist. The offender was described as a white male facial hair wearing a gray hoodie. Deputy cleared the scene with no contact. While Deputy was leaving the scene on Woodland Dr. he saw a male fitting the description of the offender and identified him as Elijah Morgan. Elijah informed the Deputy that he had talked to people at the entrance of the dam but did not try to get into any vehicles. Deputy was granted permission to search Elijah, and located in his left front pocket what appeared to be a prescription bottle with no name. Inside the bottle was 9 1/2 square tablets believed to be Buprenorphine, and Elijah was also chewing on a 3 in black straw which he stated he found on the road. Elijah was placed under arrest. Deputy Lance Anderson LCSO, made the arrest.

DUI
Heather Weaver, 43, Nebo Road Walland, was charged with DUI. Officer Marty Ward was patrolling the Hotel in Loudon when he started around the Inn of Loudon, and observed a white vehicle pulling into the parking lot. The vehicle pulled into a parking spot then backed out into a parked vehicle. Officer activated his blue lights and the vehicle continued to park pulling over the concrete stop. Officer approached the vehicle and made contact with the driver Heather Weaver and ask her I she knew she had hit a parked vehicle she stated no. Officer could smell a strong odor of alcoholic beverage about her person. Heather did poorly on sobriety test and was placed under arrest. Officer Marty Ward LPD, made the arrest.
