There's nothing as satisfying as making a house of cards and (see Horoscopes pg. 2) then knocking it over and starting with a fresh deck. Use the morning's energies to make sweeping changes, then solidify them in the afternoon.

Aries

(Mar 21-Apr 20)

The same old will just make you feel old. The way to attract what you want in your life is by figuring out first what you don't want. It's time to let go of people, places and things that just don't suit you anymore.

Taurus

(Apr 21-May 20)

Should you stay or should you go? It's hard to say, especially with some push-pull astrological energies going on in your sphere (not to mention your heart). Stay still for now. More will be revealed later.

Gemini

(May 21-June 21)

Are you paying attention? Some good news has landed in your lap, but it's so quiet that you might have overlooked it. Reexamine the events of your day. Good things really do come in small, discreet packages.

Cancer

(Jun 22-Jul 22)

It's tempting to make someone's problems your problems, especially when you're pretty sure you have a good idea about what they should do, but resist. You have your own concerns to tidy up right now.

Leo

(Jul 23-Aug 23)

An old friend has gone from daredevil to homebody. What the heck happened? Hey, why not live and let live? After all, you're a multi-faceted creature yourself. Accept who they are now and move on.

Virgo

(Aug 24-Sep 23)

Being outwardly rich is really no guarantee that you're truly wealthy where it counts. It's time to take a long look at what matters, what people think matters, and what the difference between the two is.

Libra

(Sept 24-Oct 23)

The temptation to label things as good or bad is strong, but stop yourself from jumping to conclusions. Something you think is terrible could turn out to be beneficial. It takes time to see the real meaning behind things.

Scorpio

(Oct 24-Nov 22)

Examine where you came from, where you are and think about where you would like to go. Small initiatives carry the seeds for important changes. You don't have to start anything now, but do think about the issues at hand.

Sagittarius

(Nov 23-Dec 21)

Be willing to take a chance, and you could end up with a permanent fixture in your life that is exactly what you needed (although you never knew you wanted it). This risk is definitely worth the reward.

Capricorn

(Dec 22-Jan 20)

Life's too short to pretend. You know what it is you need to do, but you've been hesitant about taking steps to make it happen. Wait no longer. Now's the time to take the initiative for a better existence.

Aquarius

(Jan 21-Feb 19)

It seems like a game of cosmic bumper cars, what with all the stop-go action going on in your life. Get used to this rhythm and you just might find yourself making progress -- albeit in a rather halting fashion.

Convention

Turkey Federation has become one of our best customers and partners," said Butch Spyridon, president of the Nashville Convention & Visitors Bureau. "They bring a unique enthusiasm to the Music City, and we continue to look forward to the annual winter arrival — turkey calling is now music to our ears!"

The same crowd will be back in Nashville Feb. 23 through Feb. 25, 2007, for the NWTF's 31st annual Convention and Sport Show, and officials expect an even larger crowd.

Among the many booths that will be on the convention hall floor, will be the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. That booth will include information about the agency's television show — Tennessee's Wild Side—and about the Governor's One Shot Turkey Hunt held each year in April.

The convention-goers flock to Nashville to visit a 3-acre sport show housing more than 500 exhibitors with the latest hunting gear, home decor, ATVs, boots, game calls, artwork and other products. Attendees also gather for meal functions complete with keynote speakers, live entertainment, raffles and auctions hawking everything from turkey calls to a Chevrolet Tahoe and hunts in Africa, Alaska, New Zealand and many other places.

"We always have big crowds when the convention is in Nashville," said Rob Keck, NWTF CEO. "Hunters and outdoor enthusiasts from across North America converge in Nashville for this one-of-a-kind wild turkey experience. The chance to spend time at the storied Opryland Resort is an added bonus."

Although Nashville is known for country music, convention-goers will hear the yelps, putts, clucks, purrs and gobbles of professional and amateur wild turkey callers as well as entertainment from some of the top names in country music during the convention.

"Our event is the culmination of everything wild turkey and is a celebration of our rich hunting heritage. And if you think that sounds like big business, you're right," said Keck. "Studies show the economic impact of spring turkey hunters is enormous. On average, each of the nearly 3 million turkey hunters spend about $800 each year on their sport."

The most current data shows spring turkey hunters spent almost $2 billion on licenses, permits, firearms, hunting gear and travel-related expenses in 2003.

"These are people who show up ready to spend money on the latest hunting gear, home decor, ATVs, boots, turkey calls, artwork and other products," said Dick Rosenlieb, NWTF's senior vice president of sales and marketing. "We bring all of the latest gear under one roof just a few weeks before turkey seasons start throughout the country. People are ready to hunt and this is a great place to get outfitted for the season."

This will be the fifth time in seven years the NWTF hosted its convention in the Music City, and each year the show has grown. The 2008 convention will be held in Atlanta, and then the Federation is bringing the show back to Nashville in 2009 for a seven-year-run at the Gaylord Opryland Resort and Convention Center.

"This year's convention is on track to break last year's attendance," said Keck. "As soon as last year's convention ended, a lot of folks started making plans to attend this year's convention. We've even started getting interest in 2008's Atlanta convention, and that's pretty exciting."

Among the many events scheduled are the Wild Turkey Bourbon/NWTF Grand National Calling Championships as well as taxidermy, art and call making competitions.

The exhibit schedule is: Feb. 23: 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Feb. 24: 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Feb. 25: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency will have an exhibit in the convention hall.

Trooper Russell Smith, THP made the arrest.

After investigation Kilby was the driver and had a revoked license with 2 prior convictions. Officer Jeremy Dishner, LCPD made the arrest.
