The World by Gus

Last week I spoke about company coming in from out of state and apparently I hit a sore spot. See I learned a long time ago that company is a lot like a fish, anything over three days and it starts to stink.

Usually if we are lucky enough to go out of state to visit, we stay a day or two with each family member, then on to the next spot. We never stay more than three in feet first to all the fetes and festivities going on, but a little voice is saying that you need to get some quality time by yourself. Why can't you have both? Look for room in your calendar.

Horoscopes

Cancer

(Jun 22-Jul 22)

Something's causing a few waves, but not to worry -- your boat's in no danger of capsizing. Luckily, your loved ones are around; they'll take the oars and handle the steering for a while. Soon you'll be safely on shore.

Leo

(Jul 23-Aug 23)

Usually you don't have time for frivolous things like daydreams or meandering conversations with no clear goal in sight. However, you might just surprise yourself today. Going with the flow yields more than you realized.

Virgo

(Aug 24-Sep 23)

Sometimes you need to take what you can get, but other times, you need to uphold your standards and not settle. Which of those times is this? Only you can answer that -- with a little help from the stars, of course.

Libra

(Sept 24-Oct 23)

Finagling your way into a plum situation is right up your alley. The more impossible the odds, the better. You didn't get this skillful by shooting fish in a barrel. The bigger the challenge, the more you'll rise to it.

Scorpio

(Oct 24-Nov 22)

This little roadblock isn't preventing forward motion in your career -- if anything, it's showing you where to go next by deterring you from certain options. Work with these restrictions and you can change the rules.

Sagittarius

(Nov 23-Dec 21)

Your point of view continues to evolve. It may cause some discomfort at first, but this is actually healthy! Once you acknowledge and accept all of these changes, everything will start to make sense.

Capricorn

(Dec 22-Jan 20)

Is it possible to have too much of a good thing? There are warning impulses going on within you: extreme courtesy and total extravagance. Walk the line and you'll indulge just enough to have fun without going overboard.

Aquarius

(Jan 21-Feb 19)

Watch it, or your way with words could come across as glib. You have a lot more substance than that. So take a moment, regroup and think about what you're really trying to get across. Then speak from the heart.

Pisces

(Feb 20-Mar 20)

Challenges on the home front only make you more resourceful. Can you parlay those skills into the workplace? If you do, you'll see the payoffs in an expanded skill set or in recognition from some powerful boss types.

Aries

(Mar 21-Apr 20)

Facing the truth isn't easy, but it saves so much energy -- energy you could be using much more profitably. So put aside those rose-colored glasses for now. You need to take a good, long look at what's really going on.

Taurus

(Apr 21-May 20)

Get serious about doing this before time passes you by. You've been all talk and no action for too long now. The time is right, so move on this opportunity. The stars say it won't linger. Take a deep breath. Dive in.

days. Three days is that magic number; remember that and you can help with world peace.

Now the next part I want to discuss is the fact of where your visitors are from. Here's my biggest gripe: when I go north to visit, I know that I have to eat Yankee food; I'm in their home so I attempt to eat what I am served. When my lovely wife's parents come here though, she acts like she has never lived in Tennessee before and the whole time we have company, I get stuck eating Yankee food in my own home. That just isn't fair I tell you.

I did use my head this time though; we had chicken and dumplings one night and I told everyone that it was possum and dumplings. I had plenty of leftover dumplings to help me get through the week. -Gus west to Broadway.

Changes

The section of Magnolia Avenue between the BellSouth Building and James White Parkway will be known as Old Magnolia Avenue until the city of Knoxville designates a permanent name for this section.

Motorists need to be alert for changing conditions when traveling through this area during those times.

Drivers wishing to access Old Magnolia Avenue from the east should turn left onto Hall of Fame Drive and then right onto Old Magnolia Avenue.

"To make the switch we will have to remove striping and temporary signals, re-stripe, add stop bars and double yellow lines and energize new traffic signals," said Jeff Walker, spokesperson for Ray Bell Construction. "The work is also dependant on the weather. Striping cannot be applied to wet pavement, so if it rains the work will be delayed until the weather permits."
