TVA warns consumers to beware of marketing claims for radiant barriers

Valley residents should be very wary of marketing efforts by representatives of a radiant barrier company who falsely claims TVA endorses their product.

"The company in question

Horoscopes

when to step back. It's one more item in the long list of qualities that your nearest and dearest adore about you.

Cancer

(Jun 22-Jul 22)

A hidden need for something different and exciting might make you crabbiest than you actually are. You need glamour, romance, excitement. The stars say all of that is within your grasp -- you just have to reach for it.

Leo

(Jul 23-Aug 23)

Remind yourself that it's the seemingly small details that count, especially when it comes to counting your blessings. You'll regain a sense of calm and balance when you see how rich your life is.

Virgo

(Aug 24-Sep 23)

Are you ready to rush in some glory? Don't be modest -- you deserve these kudos. The stars say your efforts will pay off in a big way, especially if you don't try and rush the results. Sit back and enjoy the ride.

Libra

(Sept 24-Oct 23)

Your loved ones work hard -- and so do you, for that matter. Why not help them (and yourself, too), by throwing a little celebratory shindig? What's the occasion? Do you really need one? It's time to party!

Scorpio

(Oct 24-Nov 22)

Your intelligence and charm are formidable. Make sure you're not subtly using these gifts to intimidate someone into a decision they're not ready to make. Use those powers for good and let them get there on their own.

Sagittarius

(Nov 23-Dec 21)

Yes, you're much fitter since you started that exercise program, but not everyone wants to hear about it in excruciating detail. If people's eyes are glazing over when you discuss your running regimen, change the topic.

Capricorn

(Dec 22-Jan 20)

Your appeal is on overdrive. If you're partnered, your sweetheart can hardly bear to be away from your side. If you're single, you'll have to fight 'em off with a stick. Accept all the loving attention that's lavished upon you.

Aquarius

(Jan 21-Feb 19)

Have you been thinking of a certain someone almost constantly? Well, if that's the case, then reach out and touch someone -- or at the least, send them a text message or an email. They'll be glad to hear from you.

Pisces

(Feb 20-Mar 20)

Save yourself time and energy by working smarter, not harder. Instead of redoing your overdue project three times, talk to all the necessary parties and ask about anything that's confusing or unclear.

Aries

(Mar 21-Apr 20)

It's time to follow your instincts. Be totally spontaneous. You're a free spirit at heart, which means you're a natural to indulge those wilder impulses. Persuade someone special to come along for the ride. They'll love it.

Taurus

(Apr 21-May 20)

Put aside your to-do lists and chores.

Turn off the phone, TV and computer. Now pick up a paintbrush, a pencil or whatever material you need to let your imagination run wild. Get back to basics.

TVA

people who believe TVA is endorsing and financing the installation of this specific brand of radiant barriers."

"The fact is TVA is currently performing field tests on several different brands of radiant barriers," Carver said. "Early results show they do, indeed, save energy and may be a useful energy conservation tool under certain applications. But we do not presently finance radiant barriers in our energy conservation program, nor does TVA promote or endorse specific energy conservation products."

Radiant barriers are reflective aluminum films which are installed in home attics to reflect summer heat back outside and keep winter heat inside. TVA is performing field tests in a total of 60 homes in Tupelo, Mississippi, and Hopkinsville, Kentucky, to determine if radiant barriers should be included as an option under the Energy Package.

"Our tests show that very few people would find it cost effective to pay more than 20 cents per square foot for radiant barrier materials," Carver said. "Yet we have reports of a company selling the material for more than 60 cents per square foot."

"Most manufacturers of radiant barriers market their products accurately and ethically," Carver said. "Consumers should not reject radiant barriers outright, but should exercise discretion when purchasing these materials."

Letter to the Editor

Tribute to Larry Bandy & Paul Baird

denly. His name was Larry Bandy. Before Larry's passing, came the passing of another close friend and brave soldier involved in the clean air movement, his name was Paul Baird. Both of these fine gentlemen championed this cause for the ordinary person. Larry and Paul were past board members of Clean Air Friends. Breathing is vital to life, and good health and attaining clean, safe air quality was important to Larry and Paul.

Way before local and state officials even acknowledged any inkling of dust and particulates or any type of air quality issue, Larry voiced his concerns and brought awareness like a steady drum beat. Larry offered proactive solutions. He actively participated to address and reduce air pollutants.

His voice and your public input was the basis for the installation of the first TDEC ambient air monitor to sample air quality. The monitor was located on his property neighboring the Sugarlimb Industrial Park. He talked to people and knocked on doors of friends and neighbors with flyers and pictures in hand to urge them to get involved and attend permit hearings.

When Larry spoke at permit hearings and meetings he asked for accountability. Often times he would leave environmental bureaucrats, corporate heads and government officials speechless. Larry reminded me of the old EF Hutton commercial, when EF Hutton talks, everyone listens. That's just the kind of person, which he was - never short of words and right to the point.

A few weeks ago, we discussed concerns about the prospects of another polluter locating nearby; and true, to his word he followed up with a letter to the editor to express his views.

Our friend Larry had finesse; he was a vital and driving force to improve air quality. He will long be remembered for his contributions and hard work. We will sorely miss his strong voice, presence and knowledge that Larry possessed. He was plain spoken and caring. Our condolences to his wife Rita, children, grandchildren and other family members, our hearts and thoughts are with you all.

We would like to thank the Daily Edition for allowing us the opportunity to recognize the efforts of two unassuming but extraordinary individuals who gave their time and energy toward improving our and our children's quality of life. We would ask that the best way to honor both of their memories is to get involved as a citizen advocate for clean air. We believe Larry and Paul would like that. Sincerely,

Pat Hunter
