Lingenfelter said when he raised the hood he discovered someone had egged his hood and put sugar in his gas tank. He further stated he and his girlfriend had been arguing and she may be responsible for the damage.

No other information was available at the time of the report.

Police Beat

Jason Lynn Roberts, 20, of Main Street, Loudon, was charged with contributing to a minor.

According to the report, Officer Bennie Houser, LPD was dispatched to Church St. at Hackberry St. for four suspicious persons. Upon arrival the officer made contact with Jason Roberts.

Mr. Roberts stated they were all walking from Ferry St. to his house on Main St. The three other individuals were all juveniles.

The officer discovered a small sandwich bag with a green plant material believed to be marijuana. Mr. Roberts and two of the juveniles stated they had smoked some at 11pm. One of the juveniles claimed the marijuana. Officer Bennie Houser, LPD made the arrest.

Timothy Ryan Jones, 27, of Jim Dyke Road, Loudon, was charged with driving on suspended, speeding and light law violation.

According to the report, Officer Darrell Butler, LCPD clocked Jones at 50 m.p.h. in a 30 m.p.h. zone and stopped him. He only had one working headlight as well.

A check of Jones license showed them to be suspended for failure to satisfy. Office Darrell Butler, LCPD made the arrest.

Letter to the Editor

When is a Duck, Not a Duck?

Pilot Oil proposes to build a travel center at the Hwy. 72 - I-75 Loudon exit.

It's our understanding that Pilot's argument is that they are not a truck stop falling under the general description of "motor vehicle transportation." Have you ever heard of the old "Duck Rule, if it looks like a duck, and it quacks like a duck, and it walks like a duck . . . chances are it's a duck even if you call it something else?"

No matter what it's called, a travel center or truck stop, the daily traffic count speaks volumes with estimates of 425-450 cars and 300-350 trucks. The Pilot website mentions that it's "the largest seller of over-the-road diesel fuel." Whom do you think buys diesel fuel?

Truck stops are synonymous with complaints over noise and air pollution, crime, traffic, and congestion and safety issues. Paving a large parcel of land will likely add to storm drain and run-off concerns. Maybe, lest you think this project will bring good jobs to our area, taken from the Pilot Oil web site, "...It's also not easy maintaining a large national workforce of mainly minimum wage workers to keep stores clean and customer service high."

We also have concerns about air quality and health issues such as adding more hazardous air pollutants (diesel emissions) since our county is in violation of Federal Clean Air Standards for ozone and fine particle pollution. Let's not forget that Loudon County residents have serious respiratory illnesses as documented in our health assessment study conducted by state and federal agencies.

Pollution has no boundaries. Idling trucks burn enormous quantities of fuel. As you can see this is much more than just an economic development or zoning matter. Please take the time to attend this meeting or contact Loudon City's BZA members since they will have the final say about this matter.

Thank you, outside his residence the burglary occurred. When he confronted the male he ran away from the area. Sgt. Brian Jenkins encountered a white male at the corner of Keene and Vale streets. The male was clothed in the same fashion the victim described and the victim positively identified him as the same man who was in his vehicle. The suspect was identified as Donnie Baker.

After arresting Baker for the burglary of that vehicle during a consensual search of Bakers truck the officer found a pill bottle containing what he recognized to be and Baker confirmed was methadone. There were one and a half of these pills. Baker could produce no valid prescription and the name on the bottle was not his. The person on the bottle was contacted and she stated the drugs were stolen from her vehicle. She suspects it was parked at the Kwik Pantry where she remembered seeing Baker only minutes prior to his arrest for the other auto burglary. She stated she did not give Baker the medication or give him
