blue Nissan truck pulling out of the parking lot at a high rate of speed and the same vehicle was parked beside her at the gas pumps with two female occupants.

Deputy Ben Munro, LCSD made contact with the vehicle and the female subjects matching the description on Steekee Road. The passenger of the vehicle Whitney Buckner admitted to entering the victim's vehicle without her permission and took the wallet. The stolen property was recovered and the victim did identify the occupants as the same one's whom she was at the gas station.

Whitney Amanda Buckner, 23, of Reed Springs Church Road, Loudon, was charged with auto burglary and theft under $500. Officer April Farmer, LPD made the arrest.

charged with DUI
1st.

According to the report, Officer Bennie Houser, LPD was dispatched to a wreck with injury on River Road. Upon arrival the officer observed a vehicle on its side blocking half of River Road. Kevin Young was the driver and he stated he was not hurt. He just wanted the officer to help him push his car back over so he could drive it home.

Young had a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage about his person and stated he had one beer. He stated he was coming from Highland Avenue heading to his residence and his dog jumped on him causing him to wreck.

Young registered .19% on the intoximeter. Officer Bennie Houser, LPD made the arrest.

thermometers plunging in South America in recent days and Buenos Aires saw snow on Monday for the first time in 89 years.

Who forgot to tell them, AI? When are these people going to understand the history of our planet: it warms then it cools with that process repeating itself over and over. Who are we to think that we little specks of mere dust can alter God's ultimate plan for us and the planet?

Well, I can tell you that these people rely on our emotions primarily to get in our pocketbook; that's what I think any way. And I think that I am not the only one who is starting to figure this out, because they had predicted that the Live Earth Concert would have something like 7 billion viewers and they ended up having only 3 million.

So AI, if you happen to be a reader of my column, take some friendly advice, put the double cheese-burger down and start walking instead of driving around in a gas guzzling SUV,

Nothing against SUV's mind you, but you must practice what you preach if you want to be the High Priest of Global Warming. -Gus and natural talent of these boys are amazing. Even though they are only eight years old you would never know that by watching them play. They have the knowledge and the ability of some high school level players. They turn plays that would have you thinking that you're watching ESPN!

As an Organization they strive to create an environment that focuses not only on the game, but also the skills of teamwork and sportsmanship. As a League, their success is measured upon the individual experience of each child, and the lessons and values that will remain with him for years to come.

They have structured practices once a week focusing on the fundamentals, but what makes this team so special and so successful is their teamwork and friendships. This is not a team of just 10 individual boys, they're a family and they show that in everything they do on the field and off.

"Everywhere we go I only hear positive comments about our team. It's not only how our kids play but also on how we handle ourselves at the fields that makes waves.

That's a testament to our parents as well as our players. I am very pleased with the progress that our players made and the friendships we made with each other. It's about everyone making a contribution." Coach Greg Monger
