PART ONE

I fished a catfish tournament this past weekend on Ft. Loudon. That was my second worst fishing trip of my life. See, I usually fish during the week or late at night. There is not a lot of boat traffic, plus it's cooler.

Well on this trip, we decided to fish down around Concord Park in the main channel. We started fishing around 7:30 in the evening. We saw more boats cruising up and down the lake than I think I have ever seen in my entire life. We anchored about 100 feet from shore and wouldn't you know it, boats started going between us and the shore.

It was like being a rubber duck in a giant bath tub with a fat kid full of hot air. We had water coming over the sides of the boat, the back of the boat and the front as well.

We thought it would calm down at dark, wrong, it was miserable until midnight. The boat was moving so much there was no way you could even tell if you had a bite.

If you want some peace on the Lake, it would have to be fishing during the week. Want pandemonium, then fish a weekend. All I can say is I can't wait until cold weather. -Gus
