On Thursday August, 23rd, police from LCPD along with rescue workers from the Lenoir City Fire Dept. and Rural Metro EMS were dispatched to McGhee Blvd. in front of Walgreens in response to a call of a wreck. Upon arrival, the rescue workers found a grey, 1999 Ford car being driven by Cindy Williams, that had left the roadway and crashed. Evidence at the scene indicated that Williams left the road and travelled up an embankment before going airborne and then crashed nose-first into a ravine.

fore rescue workers could extricate Williams from the vehicle. Several trees had to be removed from the crash sight to allow the rescue workers access to the scene. The extent of Williams injuries was not known, but all precautions possible were taken during her removal from the vehicle. Williams was transported by Rural Metro Ambulance service to a local hospital for further in front of us that was about to launch. It was two city slickers with a brand spanking new bass boat. They were taking forever; Delmer was waiting for them to move and we was a having a hard time figuring out what they were up to.

They had the boat backed into the water and both men were at the front of the boat pushing it towards the water. Then with a loud thud, the trailer tongue hit the ground and the boat and trailer slid into the water. One feller jumped in the boat, the other back in to move the truck. They had just launched a 21' boat with the trailer still attached.

Toad phoned Delmer and told him to park the truck, we weren't done fishing yet. The men were still fiddling around at the dock when we eased back over to get Delmer. We heard one of the city fellers say " $52,000 for a bass boat, you would think they would make it easier to unload."

Now that wasn't half as funny as watching them take off. They took off from the dock, floored the throttle, but never got past 5 mile an hour. They circled back around and headed back to the ramp.

that weren't his. He also was driving on revoked license.

Michael Eugene Chastain, 33, of Elm Grove St., Loudon, was charged with driving on revoked and poss. of

sch. IV.

According to the report, Officer Jonathan Yates, LPD observed a black vehicle cross the center line and followed the vehicle and when he noticed the tag was registered to a different vehicle he stopped it.

The passenger stated he was the owner of the car and knew it displayed the wrong tag.

The driver, Chastain, had an ID Only and a check showed his license to be revoked for DUI.

Chastain also produced a pill bottle that contained 10 blue pills believed to be Xanax that he did not have a prescription for. Chastain stated they belonged to his wife. Officer Jonathan Yates, LPD made the arrest.

Police Beat

William Marshall Dale Young, 41, of Ash Avenue, Lenoir City was charged with VOP.
