Wanted woman tries to bond out boyfriend in stolen vehicle

The only word that comes to mind in this story is DUH! Deputies received a call from Cumberland County Sheriff's Department that a subject by the name of Felicia Graham was at the Loudon County Jail attempting to make bond for her boyfriend Brandon Lowery. CCSD also advised they held active warrants for Ms. Graham for theft and assault and that she was in possession of a stolen vehicle.

Fishing with Gus

I had the pleasure of cat fishing this past Tuesday with a fellow from Marion, North Carolina. Philip Price fishes in Tennessee more than he does his home state. He wants to fish in a place that has trophy catfish; Fort Loudon and Watts Bar Lakes fit that criteria.

He visits our towns, stays in our motels, eats our food investigate the theft of a of a golf cart and subsequent vandalism of property and arrived to speak with Rodney Grugin.

Grugin reported someone came to the Green house and took the company cart, which was stored outside next to the building sometime overnight.

The thief reportedly also knocked over several flowerpots, breaking two of them, and broke two 10" mums. Several others flowers also were damaged.

Grugin reported the thief drove the golf cart down the driveway, then veered off the driveway and into the grass to avoid a beeper, as if they knew it was there. The thief then came back onto the driveway and continued on until nearing a cable across the drive, at which point the cart was driven through a flowerbed to avoid the cable.

The value of the loss and damage was estimated at $1600.

Mobile Meth Lab Busted

photos and story by M. Lynch

On Thursday night, August 2, 2007 K-9 officer Jeremy Dishner of the Lenoir City Police Dept. observed a red Ford Escort cross the white line in front of the Walgreen's on Hwy 321 nearly driving off the embankment. Officer Dishner then initiated a traffic stop in the parking lot of the Dairy Queen on Hwy, 11. At approximately 6:58 p.m. officer Jason Butler, LCPD, was dispatched to the same location to assist Officer Dishner due to reportedly suspicious behavior by the occupants of the vehicle.

Upon making contact with the suspects

the officers observed the occupants attempting to conceal possible narcotics in the rear seat of the vehicle. One of the rear passengers, later iden-

The driver, Troy D. Greene was taken into custody without incident tified as Michael Lynn Clawson of Rockwood, Tn., was removed from the vehicle and during the course of patting down the suspect for weapons officer Butler observed an unidentifiable object in Mr. Clawson's front left cargo pocket. A further search revealed the items to be a small knife and a clear plastic bag containing a yellow powdery substance believed to be methamphetamine. Upon attempting to place the suspect into custody he (Clawson) intentionally prevented the officer from making the arrest by pulling away and attempting to run. After struggling to the ground with the suspect and numerous commands to stop resisting, which the suspect reportedly refused to do, officer Butler deployed a 1 second burst of a chemical agent, leading to the apprehension of Michael Lynn Clawson.

At the same time officer Dishner had placed the other rear seat passenger, 29 yr. old Kristi N. Kelley of Spring City, Tn., in handcuffs and was assisting officer Butler in the apprehension of the first suspect, when Ms. Kelly attempted to flee the scene on foot. Ms. Kelly reportedly fled on foot through a thicket and crossed Hwy 11, still in handcuffs heading toward Rose st. and Broadway where she was apprehended.

After apprehending the two fleeing suspects, officer Dishner and officer Butler then returned to the vehicle and took the two other suspects into custody. By this time other officers arrived at the scene from LCPD and the Loudon Co. Sheriff's Dept. Narcotics Division Meth Task Force as well as officers from TVA, LCPD and Rural Metro responded as well.

hicle, Troy D. Greene of Kingston, Tn. and the front passenger, Regina Dawn Ward of Roane Co., Tn. were taken into custody without incident.

A brief search of the vehicle revealed ingredients for the production of the drug, methamphetamine. The area was secured at that point and technicians from the Tennessee Methamphetamine Task Force were dispatched to the scene to collect evidence and decontaminate the area. A thorough search of the vehicle revealed it to be a mobile, clandestine methamphetamine laboratory. As well as chemicals, components and "cooking" equipment for the production of the drug being found, a set of digital scales and several glass pipes used for smoking methamphetamine were also recovered from the scene.

Michael Lynn Clawson is charged with: Initiate process to manufacture methamphetamine; Possession of Schedule II; Resisting stop, frisk, halt, arrest or search.

Troy D. Greene is charged with: Initiate process to manufacture methamphetamine.

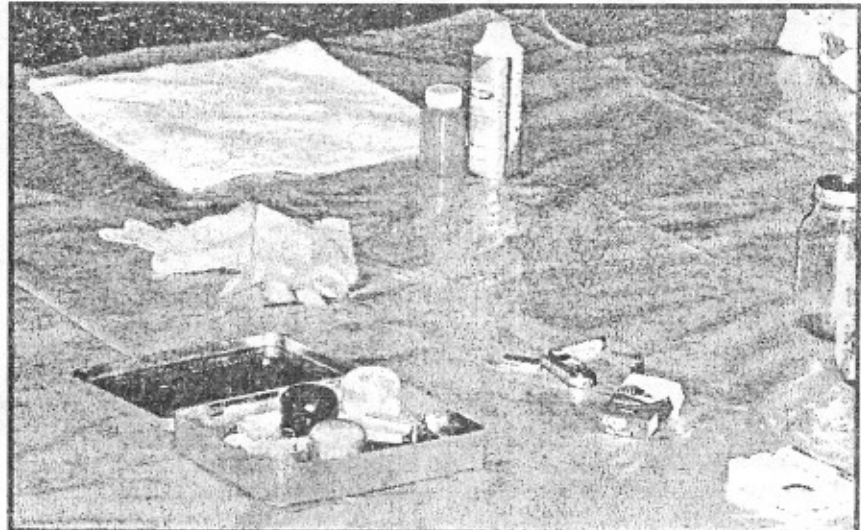

Regina Dawn Ward is charged with: Initiate process to manufacture methamphetamine.

Kristi N. Kelley is charged with: Initiate process to manufacture methamphetamine; Felony possession of drug paraphernalia; resisting stop, frisk, halt, arrest or search.

All four suspects are currently at the Loudon Co. Jail.

Tools of the trade:

After authorities conducted a thorough search of the suspects vehicle, several components for the production of Methamphetamine were discovered. Also found were several glass pipes used for smoking the illicit drug (Pictured right) The investigators also found digital scales and other paraphernalia used for "cooking" the substance.
