Remembrance

and south towers of the World Trade Center, one into the Pentagon and a fourth into a field in Pennsylvania. The attacks killed more people than the surprise attack on the Naval base at Pearl Harbor did, which signified the American entrance into World War II.

The people of Loudon County have not forgotten the events of that terrible day. On Tuesday 9/11 local dignitaries and citizens gathered on the lawn of the Loudon County courthouse to commemorate those who lost their lives and to honor those service men and women who are currently deployed around the globe defending our nation against those who strive to destroy our way of life.

The event was opened by cadets of the Loudon High School NJROTC presenting the colors of our nation and the singing of our National Anthem. A recital of the Pledge of Allegiance by Cadet Lt. Savanna Reynolds followed.

Commander Scott Goodson, Loudon High School Naval Science Instructor, then delivered a speech to the crowd emphasizing the importance of continued vigilance by our nation against those who strive to destroy us. He also stressed tolerance of cultures that are part of our community and our nation in order to live peacefully among ourselves. He also commended our troops abroad for the sacrifices they have endured for our freedom.

A highlight of the festivities was the presentation of a medley of patriotic music sung by the Philadelphia Elementary School second grade class. With musical direction by John Dutton and Beth Krempleski the children stirred the patriotism of all those in attendance.

The event will be held in remembrance on September 11th for the foreseeable future. Everyone in the community is encouraged to attend this remembrance for those individuals who have sacrificed so much for our nation.

Handy Tips

If you have cast iron pans, or a wood stove that has collected "gunk" from being used over and over, remove the crusting with a paste made of cream of tartar and vinegar, it will make cleaning a breeze.

To remove those tough stains from the bottom of a glass vase, just fill with water and add two Alka-Seltzer tablets!

Calcium and Your Health

Calcium is important to healthy bones, teeth, blood pressure and overall health. But few people are meeting current dietary recommendations for calcium.

Americans are consuming an average of 1.5 servings of dairy foods every day, falling well short of the Food Guide Pyramid's recommended two to three servings per day.

Choosing low-fat or fat-free dairy products helps control your overall fat intake while still providing nutrients. Non-dairy foods high in calcium include broccoli, sardines and salmon with the bones and calcium-fortified foods. Include these foods in your daily eating plan to receive the added health benefits that calcium provides.
