Stevens' Dream Becomes Reality With Dedication of Ramp

Gatlinburg, - The late Bill Stevens' vision of a handicap-accessible fishing pier in the City of Gatlinburg has become a reality.

Construction at Herbert Holt Park has been completed on a ramp on the Little Pigeon River which Stevens envisioned at a City Commission meeting years ago.

The ramp and pier was dedicated in an official public ceremony on Friday, September 21 at 4 p.m., with members of the Stevens family, his many friends and supporters in attendance.

Stevens supported the establishment of Gatlinburg's unique rainbow trout stocking program, which included the conversion of the City's former sewer plant into a trout farm featuring six raceways which support thousands of trout as they grow from fingerlings into adults.

The City stocks Gatlinburg waters with thousands of trout annually for local residents and visitors.

The ramp affords more people the opportunity to enjoy the fishing program by providing added accessibility.

"Former Mayor Stevens believed that it would be nice for the City to offer a designated and accessible place for handicapped people to fish for trout in Downtown Gatlinburg instead of having to fish off a bridge or off a sidewalk," said Cindy Cameron Ogle, City Manager.

A committee which included Stevens looked around town and picked the Herbert Holt location on a section of the river presently set aside for fishing by children. Herbert Holt Park offers plenty of parking, another factor in the choice of the site.

After Stevens' death in 2004, City Commission put special emphasis on the project specifically to construct the fishing ramp and pier as a memorial to the community leader's years of service to Gatlinburg.

An engineering study was completed and models were completed of stream flow and how the addition of any structure in the floodway would impact stream flow. The City applied for a grant last Spring and received a $100,000 matching grant from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation toward the City's Herbert Holt Park Handicapped Fishing Access Project. Also, the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency gave a commitment of an additional $20,000 toward the construction of the pier.

The concrete ramp winds from the parking area down along the river around several turns, meeting all wheelchair slope requirements, to a concrete pier built where there was a sandy beach in the bend of the river. The ramp allows wheelchair-bound people to get right down next to the river to fish, and is unique because it might be among the first, if not the only fast-water handicap fishing pier in the state.

"There are lots of handicap fishing facilities on lakes and ponds, but I don't know of another one on a fast-moving stream, especially a trout stream," said Gatlinburg Recreation Director Marty Nicely.

Herbert Holt Park will remain a kids section of the river, but the ramp area will be designated for defined handicap use as well.

General contractor Design and Construction Services, Inc. earned the contract for the ramp project and completed it in August.

Oaks

mast was hit hard in the lower elevations, we do have some red oak mast," said David Brandenburg, TWRA wildlife biologist. "White oaks did better in the higher elevations of the Cumberland Plateau and in the mountains of East Tennessee."

Brandenburg is just completing the summary of mast surveys conducted by field personnel. Mast surveys are conducted each year in selected counties and WMA's across Tennessee. Surveys are run along an established route so that data can be compared to that collected in previous years.

Data collected this year in counties and wma's in Region IV is as follows:

* Carter County: Reproduction in 19 of 28 white oaks sampled had acorns, 3 of 48 red oaks had acorns.

* Grainger County: 0 of 43 white oaks had acorns, 2 of 12 red oaks had acorns.

* Greene County: 2 of 45 white oaks had acorns, 7 of 33 red oaks had acorns.

* Hamblen County: 1 of 28 white oaks had acorns, 17 of 28 red oaks had acorns.

* Chuck Swan WMA: 1 of 18 white oaks had acorns, 14 of 22 red oaks had acorns.

* Royal Blue WMA: 20 of 44 white oaks had acorns, only 5 of 27 red oaks had acorns.

This year's late freeze is expected to have more of an effect on next year's red oak mast, since red oak acorns take two years to mature.

black bears in the Southern Appalachians appears to be closely related to acorn abundance. Research on white-tailed deer in the Appalachians has demonstrated that acorn abundance significantly influences body weights, antler size, and productivity of deer.

Although the overall production of acorns is down, there may be isolated pockets where white oaks were not affected.

of speed and was attempting to negotiate a curve when the driver lost control, left the roadway and crashed into a house located at 220 West Hills Drive.

This crash resulted from an earlier report of an armed robbery that occurred at the BP Kenjo on Highway 321. LCPD Officer Mark Maxwell responded to the scene and upon speaking with the clerk learned that an unshaven man with blue eyes and wearing a black beanie hat had entered the store carrying a needle wrapped with a paper cover. The suspect reportedly stated that the needle contained AIDS infected blood and if the clerk did not hand over the money he would squirt the clerk with it.

The clerk stated that he argued momentarily with the suspect and then gave him the $80.00 that was in the cash register in 1 and 5 dollar bills and the man then left.

The suspect, Robert S. Snelson then tried to evade police by reportedly running after being located.

Snelson is also being investigated in another armed robbery that occurred at the Kenjo Market located on McGhee Blvd. with similar circumstances.

After the crash Snelson was transported to the University of Tennessee Medical Center for multiple injuries sustained in the incident, which included a broken neck, broken hip and broken ribs.

The suspect is being investigated in both robberies and LCPD currently has charges pending in both incidents.

Police Beat

Walter Zeil Stanley, 26, of Skydome Road, Sweetwater, was charged with driving on a suspended license.

According to the report, Deputy Bryan Blakney, LCSD observed Stanley with a front headlight out and stopped him.

A check of his license showed them to be suspended.

Deputy Bryan Blakney, LCSD made the arrest.

Vittetoe, John and Sammy took second. Was a good night to be on the water. We weighed in at midnight, nice and cool, thank God fall starts next week, 22nd I think. Next tournament is October 6th, 3pm at Georges Creek Ramp.

BigFeet Hidden Camera Update; Have 3 cameras-good spot. We got a few pictures, a bear, 3 deer, some crows and a fatman taking a whiz by a four-wheeler. Did learn that two years ago, a Bigfoot was sighted in Lafollette. Had several sightings. Twenty miles from our encounter.

We are planning a trip to do some cat fishing back up on Norris Lake. The last fall trip I took up there with Toad and Delmer stunk. Not a single fish. We were using the wrong bait. We was watching these big old catfish eat birds. We tried everything, but we didn't have anything that looked like a bird. The bird was a red breasted water warbler. They only visit Norris to rest on there southern flight. So this fall we are ready, no we didn't catch the endangered red breasted water warbler, we got some chickens and some fire engine red spray paint. -Gus
