The World by Gus

Ok, I know this is sort of a political article, but I have to share my recent trip to the backwoods of Scott County this past weekend.

We weren't drinking or anything; straight as an arrow. We were scouting deer and it was getting close to dusk; we were on four-wheelers on the edge of a large area that had just been clear-cut by loggers.

We saw some movement down in a ravine; there was a creek and some very large

Williams

August 13, 2007 Travis Brian Williams did commit the offense of identity theft by using the personal identifying information of his father in order to have his father's Home Depot credit card number changed and to put himself as an authorized user of the card.

Since the unauthorized changes were made Travis Brian Williams has used the card numerous times and has charged approximately $1700 to the card without his father's consent or knowledge. This was done to defraud the victim and the credit card company.

Deputy Olwin Norman, LCSD made the arrest.

Jailed

was identified as the child's uncle.

Brian Anthony Addeo was charged with simple assault.

According to the report, Ernest Spalding heard his sister's child crying on Britany Lane and went to get the child. Mr. Addeo pulled into the residence and started assaulting Mr. Spalding.

Witness stated Mr. Addeo continued punching Mr. Spalding in the face and pounding his face into the pavement.

Mr. Spalding was trying to find out why Brian Addeo left the child alone in the trailer.

Mr. Spalding was taken to the hospital for treatment. Sgt. Joe Foster, LCPD made the arrest.

boulders and we only got a glimpse of the creature. We thought at first it was a bear, but was soon proven wrong. This thing was on its back legs hopping along the rocks in the crick.

Now you won't get me to say it was one of those big feet creatures, but it was something unlike anything I have ever saw in my life. What the !!! was it?

It wasn't like the picture of Bigfoot that I have seen on TV. It was slumped over, not standing straight up, but it was that same dirt brown color.

Was there tracks? Don't know and you couldn't pay me enough to go back and look either. I am not even sure I'm going back to hunt; every hair on the back of my neck was standing on end. I am not too big to say that it scared the crap out of me.

I grew up in the mountains of Scott County and this my friend is the only time in my forty years of being alive that I can say I was scared to be in the woods. Look forward to your comments. Gus@ToadsBaitShop.com geese. Wood duck/teal may be hunted from September 8-12 with a daily bag limit of 4 (only 2 of which may be wood ducks).

Waterfowl

Hunters should remember that all waterfowl hunting requires the use of nontoxic shot and all shotguns must be plugged to hold no more than 3 shells. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

When hunting on public land or water, hunters should remember that it is illegal to hunt within 100 yards of a visible dwelling house, whether or not such dwelling house is on public or private lands, without the owner's permission.

Waterfowl hunters age 16 and over should possess, in addition to other required licenses, a Federal Duck Stamp which is available from U.S. Post Offices and many sporting good stores.

A Migratory Bird Permit is also required for hunters ages 13 through 64 except for Lifetime Sportsman License holders, landowners hunting on their own property, disabled veterans, and military personnel on leave with leave papers. This permit is available from all license agents. It is free for Annual Sportsman License holders and costs $2.00 for all others.

Festival

current events September 8-9, 2007 from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. each day.

The Great Island Festival at Fort Loudoun State Historic Area will take visitors back in time to an 18th Century Trade Faire where visitors will find encampments of 18th Century soldiers, settlers and Native Americans. There will be demonstrations throughout the day in artillery and musketry. Merchants and artisans will be on hand to peddle food and wares reminiscent of the time. Music and other entertainment will be featured on two stages, with acts including the Celtic band Father, Son and Friends and The Traveling Caudells, a traditional vocal duo. An 18th Century magician, Common Stocks Curious Booth of Wonders, Otto the Sword-swal-lower and the Amazing Juggling Budabi Brothers will also delight and astonish visitors of all ages.

Meanwhile, at the Sequoyah Birthplace Museum, visitors will have the opportunity to experience Native American food, arts and crafts demonstrations, music and dance, a Native American encampment, and an exhibit from the McClung Museum, among other features. Special entertainment will be provided by the Warrior Dancers of Ani-Kituhwa; Paula Nelson, an educator; Diamond Go-Sti, a native culturalist; Mike Serna, a Native American modern musician; and storyteller Bob Elderidge. Darts, beads, talking sticks, face painting and free Cherokee name cards will be available for children.

The festival is named for the "Great Island," a Cherokee village site 250 years ago. Today, Fort Loudoun State Historic Area and the Sequoyah Birthplace Museum occupy an island created by the Tellico Lake Project.

To visit, travel highway 129 to Maryville, then take Highway 411 to Vonore. Once in Vonore, turn left on Highway 360. Festival Parking is at Sequoyah Birthplace Museum and shuttle buses will provide transportation for visitors from one site to the other, approximately 1.5 miles. Adult tickets are $5.00 to the Trade Faire and $5.00 to the Sequoyah Birthplace Museum. Kids 12 and under are admitted free of charge.

Fort Loudoun State Historic Area is a 1,200-acre site on the location of one of the earliest British fortifications on the western frontier, built in 1756. Nearby were the principle towns of the Cherokee Nation including Tenase, namesake of our state, and Tuskegee, birthplace of Sequoyah. Today the fort and the 1794 Tellico Blockhouse overlook TVA's Tellico Reservoir and the Appalachian Mountains.

For more information about the park or the Great Island Festival, contact the Fort Loudoun State Historic Area office at 423-884-6217 or visit the Web site at: www.tnstateparks.com/FortLoudoun/.
