the time to go. Watts Bar Lake is about the best around right now. Tellico is a pretty close second.

The shad will start dying sometime this month and when they do, there will be a shortfall in bait. That means that the bass will hit on about anything you throw at them.

I know it's cold and miserable, but there is no better time than now to fish.

So don't wait to get Spring Fever, throw your fishing poles in the truck and head to the water. You won't be sorry. Don't forget that old saying, a bad day of fishing is better than a good day at work. That is also true in the winter.

I have a lot of friends that only fish in the winter; they say that there are two main reasons that they do this. First is great fishing, second is boat traffic.

Yep, if you hate all the ski boats, wave runners, and cruisers, now is the time to miss all the nuts.

I have about sworn off fishing on Ft.

Loudon in the summer, way too much boat traffic. Most of those summer boat drivers are nuttier than a port-a-potty at a peanut festival.
