I spoke to him for a few minutes and listened to him whine about the trout Sven Petterson caught last week. Toad insisted that Sven found it trapped in the high waters left over by the

I shopped around for a bit and noticed Toad mumbling to himself, slinging paint on everything and that's probably the reason he chose camouflage colors in the first place. His chair was now three shades of green with tree limbs drawn on it to seem as if you were setting on an old log, the fire extinguisher blended into the wall so well that it almost disappeared and he had screwed what looked to be hundreds of branches from old artificial Christmas tree's to the ceiling, it was really starting to look like you had just stepped out into the woods or into someone's workshop who has way too much time on their hands.

School brought their own version of the 50's to life today in the cafeteria of LCES. From Elvis Presley to Richie Valens, the school was rockin' to the tunes of that golden era along with some great dance moves and poodle skirts from the children and adults alike. Guitars and old 45 records (for those of us who remember what those are) hung from the rafters and the school even had a few contests for best dressed in each grade level.

NOTICE Special Called Meeting

Lenoir City Utility Board will have a special called meeting on Monday, January 28, 2008, at 6:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers of City Hall. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the following:

1. Consideration of cancelling the contract of J.S. Haren Company awarded for the Waste Water Treatment Plant Digester's Cleaning Project.
2. Consideration of awarding Waste Water Treatment Plant Digester's Cleaning Project to J&W Mechanical, as the next lowest and best bidder ($549,981)

Malone said that the idea for the event originally came from the staff members that work in the cafeteria and the children and teachers took it and ran. The school currently plans to have more of these festivities each year and to progress through the by-gone decades of the 60's, 70's and 80's.

What a great way to spend a lunch time.

RIDDLE

I bind it and it walks.
I loose it and it stops.
What is it?

Look for answer in Monday's Edition

LAST WEEKS RIDDLE

You approach two talking doors. One door leads to the City of Truth, while the other door leads to the City of Liars. You do not know which door is which. You are able to ask only one question to determine which door is which. The door that leads to the City of Liars always speaks lies, while the door that leads to the City of Truth always speaks the truth. You want to go to the City of Truth. What question do you ask to determine which door leads to the City of Truth?

"If I were to ask the other door which door leads to the city of truth, what would it say." And then you pick the opposite door of what it tells you.
