spring turkey hunts," said Cole. "Although the installation hopes to implement deer hunts again in 2008, it is still uncertain at this time if it will be able to do so."

Cole also advises that if the installation is able to hold hunts in the future, one of the new requirements of the program will be that all individuals (regardless of age) will be required to have completed a hunter education course in order to hunt on the installation.

This is the same hunter education requirement that has been in effect at Fort Campbell for several years.

Tennessee law requires all hunters, at least 10 years of age and born on or after January 1, 1969, to have proof of satisfactory completion of a hunter education course before hunting any species. This currently includes all hunters from age 10 to 39.

Those hunters, who are old enough to be exempt from the state law requirement but who want to hunt on HAAP or Fort Campbell, can find a current list of hunter education classes at rassing blow by the fed up voters.

Even Scott Moore, the Chairman of the Commission, who was running for the Trustee's position was only able to secure 17% of the vote. Sheriff want-to-be J.J. Jones was running unopposed on the Republican ticket, but only managed to grab 65% of the total Republican vote. 35% left the Sheriff's position blank.

Does this mean that County Commission is fixed? No, not by a long shot, but at least now the Commission knows that they had better shape up or prepare to ship out.

On the other hand, they still have Commissioner Lumpy who will never learn and is still playing his part as one of the Three Stooges, only now it is a one stooge show. The other two Stooges are still present, but are just showing up to get their

All is getting better in Know County, thanks to a small ray of court ended sunshine. -Gus scribed in the hit and run and the deputy stopped it. The driver, Mr. Michael Rodney Ligdis denied having a vehicle accident. The deputy then had the victim of the accident come to the scene of the traffic stop. During the traffic accident investigation it was told to the officer Ligdis got out of his vehicle and had a conversation with the occupants of the vehicle he rear ended and then left. Upon their arrival at the traffic stop the occupants of the other vehicle stated Ligdis was indeed the driver of the vehicle involved.
