Diabetes & Your Lifestyle Habits

More than 18 million Americans have diabetes and about five million more have it and don't know it.

Diabetes increases your risk for heart disease, stroke, blindness, kidney disease and nervous system damage.

While the prevalence of type 2 diabetes in the United States is on the rise, lifestyle changes could turn the trend around.

To decrease your risk of developing type 2 diabetes, be physically active everyday, maintain a healthy weight and focus on healthy food choices using USDA's MyPyramid (www.mypyramid.gov).

If you have been diagnosed with type 2 diabetes, a registered dietitian can develop a healthy eating plan that's right for you. To locate a registered dietitian in your area, enter your zip code in the "Find a Nutrition Professional" box on the left side of this page. (From the American Dietetic Association) remains fun with this vacation checklist:

Phones

There's no place like roam – Before you leave, check to see if your wireless plan covers your travel destination. Roaming and other charges can be expensive. U.S. Cellular offers national plans that include free roaming, as well as a $99 unlimited national plan that provides convenience and service. The national plan allows unlimited voice calls.

Hands off! – A Bluetooth headset will allow you to keep your hands on the wheel while driving.

I have your number – Pre-program important numbers into your phone's address book and speed-dial functions. Don't forget numbers for your travel agent, airline, hotel and even insurance agent.

Back me up on this – Before you leave, make sure your contacts won't be lost if you lose or damage your phone. U.S. Cellular's My Contacts Backup saves your contact information online for easy transfer to a new device.

On the road again – Make sure you stay en route to a memorable spring break with U.S. Cellular's Your Navigator service, a GPS-enabled application offering turn-by-turn directions from the palm of your hand. Your Navigator is available at a fraction of the cost of traditional in-car GPS navigation systems.

Weather or not – Chances are the forecast will be nothing but sunshine, but if you want to know how much nicer it is at your destination than back home, you can access U.S. Cellular's AccuWeather forecasts, complete with up-to-date weather graphics, as well as animated radar and satellite imagery.

Water worries – Afraid your phone might take a dive in the ocean or a spill on the slopes? While some damage can be repaired, many times these catastrophes can be curtains for your phone. You can have peace of mind with cell phone insurance, which at U.S. Cellular is $6 a month. Just remember that if you are adding insurance to a phone already in use, there is a 30-day waiting period before coverage begins.

More power to you – Don't forget to bring your charger. Car chargers give you a fast power-up when your battery is low or buy extended capacity batteries available for many popular phones. Playing games, connecting to the Internet, listening to music, texting and talking all use battery power, so remember to charge your phone.

U.S. Cellular is the nation's sixth-largest wireless service carrier, providing wireless service to 6 million customers in 26 states. The Chicago-based company employs 8,000 associates and operates on a customer satisfaction strategy, meeting customer needs by providing a comprehensive range of wireless products and services, superior customer support and a high-quality national network.
