from work and found several items missing from outside his home. Ault showed the officer where he had an air conditioning unit outside in the back and where someone had taken some of the insides out of the unit and some of the copper lines.

Ault reported he also found some windows that he had propped against his house had been broken on the ground close to the AC unit, which was not hooked up the residence.

Ault further advised when he checked his outbuilding he discovered a deep freezer and a washing machine had also been taken.

The value of the loss was unknown at the time of the report.

When we recall the past, we usually find that it is the simplest things - not the great occasions - that in retrospect give off the greatest glow of happiness.

with Jim Morris who said the vandalism had to have occurred sometime overnight and described the damages as a string wrapped around the columns on the front porch and a condom left on the front door knob.

The vandals then reportedly disconnected the coax from the feed horn of the receiver, which caused the station to go off the air. They then went around back and forced entry into a plastic out-building where the lawnmower is stored and beat and broke the mower.

The officer reported motor oil had poured on the block of the building and graffiti and been placed on the building.

The value of the damage was estimated at $1000.

kids. He's kind of different this guy, in a good way of course. I once watched him replace a single pane of glass, took him three days. On this day he seemed as if he was studying something, he would go under the house, then in the house, then to the porch to scratch his head for a few minutes only to repeat the process over and over. I knew the guys that had lived there and I knew that they graduate with majors in Beeroligy, so curiosity got the best of me and I knew I would regret it, but I had to see what he was up to. I asked him how he was and how his house was, he replied that he was amazed at how good the guys left the house, but he said, "I think that they were mad when they left, because they have hidden something dead in here and I can't find it". I wished him luck and left. Well you know what this means, my chum's done! Guess I need to move it before the Crime Scene Fellows show up.
