Driver takes gas for free

While most citizens are struggling to make ends meet at the pump, one driver apparently decided to take what he wanted for free.

According to records, a clerk at Dixie Lee Shell, Highway 70 East, called police Saturday morning when the driver of a Ford F-150 pickup truck pumped $65 worth of fuel into the vehicle sion of schedule IV (valium) just after 8:00 p.m. Friday.

According to records, Deputies Jerramie Bowen and Michael Watkins were out on a traffic stop when Daugherty drove by and the officers ran his tag. The vehicle came back registered to Daugherty's wife and Cpl. Chad Estes made a traffic stop on the vehicle at River Manor Apartments.

Deputy Bowen reported Daugherty's license were checked and when the revocation was confirmed a pat down search was performed and two pill bottles were found in Daugherty's pocket.

Records indicate one of the bottles contained 16 blue pills identified as valium and the other had three methadone wafers in it. Neither bottle had Daugherty's name on it. Cpl. Estes then transported Daugherty to jail.

flagged him down and told him she noticed her medicine missing two days earlier when she came home from work, but didn't call the police immediately because she thought she may have misplaced it.

Mills advised the day after finding the medicine missing she discovered pry marks on her back door and became suspicious. She checked her house, but the only thing she could find missing was her medicine.

The missing medicine was described as four prescribed medications of an unknown value. A suspect was identified to police.

Traffic

Fame Drive (Exit 389) will be closed for at least 14 months while the interstate is totally reconstructed as part of the final phase of the SmartFIX40 project. The SmartFIX40 project, which began in 2005, will be completed on or before June 30, 2009 and will save more than two to three years of construction time.

"This is a complex project, but the end result will be a safer commute for the millions of people who travel this busy section of I-40 each month," said Governor Phil Bredesen. "The planning the Department of Transportation has put into preparing for the project and communicating its impacts to motorists ahead of time should minimize the inconveniences as construction gets underway."

Beginning today, I-40 travelers will be rerouted onto I-640. Access to and from downtown Knoxville will be maintained throughout construction. Motorists will have a number of alternate routes to reach downtown and the University of Tennessee. Eastbound motorists can use James White Parkway, Henley Street or Alcoa Highway. Westbound motorists can use the new Hall of Fame Drive to get to Neyland Drive and the South Knoxville Bridge.

According to TDOT Commissioner Gerald Nicely, years of planning and preparation have gone into the SmartFIX40 project. "This is the largest, most complex and most expensive project in TDOT history and our goal is to maintain a safe and efficient traffic flow during the closure. We have worked extensively with local and state law enforcement and emergency response agencies to ensure we are prepared for a variety of contingencies."

During the closure, the segment of I-40 will be widened to six through lanes and four auxiliary lanes will be added. In addition to interstate improvements, work will include the construction of nine bridges, 14 retaining walls and three noise walls. Additionally, two existing bridges will be demolished, 12 side roads will be completed and seven new ramps will be constructed.

"This particular section of I-40 has been a nuisance to traffic for some time," said Paul Degges, TDOT's Chief Engineer. "Following this phase of reconstruction, we will have corrected long-standing deficiencies and dramatically improved the traffic flow through downtown Knoxville."

Broken into two separate contracts, SmartFIX40 has a price tag of $190 million. SmartFIX40 is an accelerated construction process that involves closing a primary roadway to allow around-the-clock work that is uninterrupted by traffic. This will dramatically shorten the time required to complete the project, thereby enhancing safety and reducing long-term inconvenience to motorists.
