Fishing with Gus

I know this is a Political Article, but I'm over these three candidates, figured I would change it up a bit and tell you about Coonfoot's year round, un-regulated hunting habits. As most of you have figured out by now, he don't do anything normal and why would hunting be any different. Now Coonfoot is a bonified rat killing

Thieves ransack home while woman at hospital

An elderly woman returned home from sitting with her husband who was hospitalized and found someone had ransacked her residence and stolen numerous items.

Deputy Craig Brewer, LCSD, responded to a residence along Big Hill Road where he spoke with a sixty-nine year old woman who said she had left Saturday to go be with her husband who is admitted into the hospital and when she came home Monday night she found her front window broken

Grandma says, "No, No, No"

A local woman who, like so many others find themselves raising their grandchildren due to drug abuse, called police when her son showed up foaming at the mouth from drug use to see his toddler.

Deputy T.J. Scarbrough, LCSD, was dispatched to machine, he has been rat hunting now for more than 30 years and I can personally name you 72 different ways he has found to get rid of those little varmints. This is how crazy he is about his rat hunting, he bought that new Gama High Powered Scoped Air Rifle, it's the souped up version, it shoots 1675 feet per second.

He also has built to accommodate the air rifle a camouflaged 10x10 covered rat tower that stands 20 foot tall, it looks out over the place where Me and Toad stores our chum out on the back forty at Toads farm. We say that he is a true Tennessee Redneck, he hunts rats by day in that old shack and catfish by night in a boat that looks as unsafe as the rat tower. Some of us have concluded that this has to be some sort of childhood disorder. One Hundred and Seventy Six rats have met there demise at Toad's farm to date, the biggest one was a 17" sewer rat that would make the people at Boone & Crockett envious. He said the hard part is trying to find someone that knows how to do a good shoulder mount and too me that's the funny part, because I know he's being serious. If your ever out at Toad's farm and you see a great big old boy that's barefoot an caring a air rifle, that would be Coon-foot, yell at him and ask him to take you rat hunting, ask him to hunt them Gus'es favorite way, the run the old exhaust pipe in the rat hole trick. You start the truck and grab your bat, it's show time. Be sure and check out our new web site, Toads-BaitShop.com.

was in violation of the order of protection he stated "you wait until I get my hands on her and see what happens. I will see my wife today. I'm coming to Greenleaf."

Sgt. Ladd did identify herself to Mr. Brown. Due to a past history of domestic violence and a recent incident in Roane County the victim was in fear of imminent bodily injury or death.

Barry Allen Brown, 41, of West Evans Street, Rockwood, was charged with aggravated assault and violation of order of protection. Deputy John Wilson LCSD made the arrest at the Roane County Jail.

through it.

The woman said she went inside and found her house had been gone through with things thrown out of drawers and cabinets, and her closets had been ransacked. She discovered some jewelry, a coin collection and three rifles, a SKS with wood stock, a .22 bolt and a .22 semi-automatic, had been stolen.

The lawman reported he left a lost listing form with the woman so she could go through her home better when she had time to settle down from the hospital. The value of the loss was unknown at the time of the report. LCSD CID is handling the investigation.

was hit in the forehead with the door.

The officer reported the couple was gone upon his arrival.

The hapless grandparents gained custody of the child in December, 2007 when the child was just nine months old.

Illegal knife seized

James Kenneth Foust, 38, of Johnson Road, Knoxville, was charged with driving on suspended, possession of drug paraphernalia, and simple possession of schedule VI and possession of a prohibited weapon.

According to the report, Officer Jason Butler, LCPD stopped a vehicle for a seat-belt violation.

Upon running the information Foust was discovered to have a suspended license for failure to satisfy a citation.

Upon a search the officer found a small glass pipe containing a burnt residue believed to be marijuana in the drivers door.

The officer also observed a circular knife with three separate blades and serves no legal purpose.

Upon arriving at the jail officers found a clear plastic bag containing a green leafy substance believed to be marijuana.

Officer Jason Butler, LCPD made the arrest.
