Medical receptionist jailed for prescription fraud

Police arrested a Sevierville medical receptionist following an investigation into allegations she was fraudulently calling in prescription drugs that were picked up and paid for with cash.

According to the warrant, Investigator AJ Yokley LCSD ND interviewed Kimberly D. Huskey at the Sheriff's Office on suspected prescription fraud.

Nine beers & one tree later...

A local man whose driving privileges are suspended reportedly told police he'd had nine beers while officers were investigating his single vehicle crash prior to taking him to jail.

(see Mainor pg. 7)

No license

Mejia Olivares Marino, 22, of 2nd Avenue, Lenoir City was charged with no drivers license.

According to the report, Officer Darrell Butler, LCPD was dispatched to Oakwood Drive on a vehicle with a flat tire.

(see No License pg. 4)

LC man charged with felony evading, more

Corporal Ernie Brown LCSD was dispatched to a report of a domestic disturbance on Hotchkiss Valley Road. As the officer approached the scene he was advised the subjects left in a blue vehicle. The officer passed the vehicle and turned around to stop it.

The driver took off at a high rate of speed, turned

TDOS participates in Roadcheck 2008

Nashville, - The Tennessee Department of Safety is participating in Roadcheck 2008, a 72-hour commercial vehicle roadside inspection sponsored by the Commercial Vehicle Safety Alliance (CVSA). The goals of Roadcheck 2008 are to increase commercial truck and bus safety and security and to reduce the number of crashes involving commercial trucks and motor vehicles. The event, which takes place simultaneously across North America, began at midnight, Tuesday, June 3, and will continue through midnight, Thursday, June 5, 2008.

During the 72-hour period, State Troopers will conduct round-the-clock roadside inspections at all nine weigh stations along Tennessee highways. Troopers will conduct Level I inspections

(see Roadcheck pg. 3)

Verse of the day

As the Lord thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not sent to seek thee: and when they said, He is not there; he took an oath of the kingdom and nation, that they found thee not. 1 Kings 18:10

Weather:

Today: A few passing clouds, otherwise generally sunny. Hot. High 94.

Tonight: A few clouds from time to time. Low 72.

Thursday: More sun than clouds. Highs in the mid 90s and lows in the low 70s.

Wazzup

Perhaps if Scott McCluen had devoted as much time to his job as he does Van's blog there wouldn't have been such a backlog for the new administration to clean up...

on all trucks stopped with added emphasis on safety belt usage, operating authority, insurance and CDL status checks of commercial vehicle drivers. According to the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA), the 2007 overall safety belt usage rate for drivers of all medium and heavy duty trucks and buses combined was 65 percent. The usage rate for Commercial Motor Vehicle (CMV) other passengers was 57%. Safety belt usage, among drivers and other occupants combined, in units identified as part of a regional or national fleet (67%) was observed to be higher than independent owner-operators (56%).

"Tennessee routinely conducts a high number of commercial vehicle inspections across the state, including a recent Homeland Security Operation S.T.O.P. at the Greene County Scales on I-81," stressed Department of Safety Commissioner David Mitchell. "We are pleased to participate once again in the National Roadcheck enforcement program with CVSA to focus attention on the importance of these inspections for the good of public safety."

During Roadcheck 2007, State Troopers inspected more than 400 commercial vehicles, placing 59 vehicles and 35 drivers out-of-service. In the entire year of 2007, State Troopers conducted over 67,000 inspections, resulting in 4,454 vehicles and 3,764 drivers being placed out-of-service.

"Commercial vehicle inspection is crucial to the overall safety mission of the Tennessee Highway Patrol," says THP Commander, Colonel Mike Walker. "However, participation in Roadcheck 2008 is about more than enforcing the law; it's also about educating drivers and the trucking industry to promote public safety."

The major objective of Roadcheck 2008 is to remove unsafe commercial vehicle drivers and vehicles from the highways. Level 1 inspections are the most thorough and comprehensive inspections and involve all components of the commercial vehicle and driver documents.

Stolen

Scarborough, LCSD, he had been away from home since Friday and when he returned on Sunday he discovered his 1985 Ford Mustang GT missing.

Barnes said the car was grey with red [in stripes and a white hood and valued it at $5000.

The officer noted Barnes' father advised he noticed the car was missing on Saturday, but he thought his son had come and gotten it and Barnes said he knew of no one who would take his vehicle.

foot and Harold were old hunting buddies, so it was odd that he would be yelling this about poor old scrawny Harold.

As it turned out, Toad had whispered to Coonfoot that Harold was about to tell everyone the "true story" about Coonfoot's World Class 22 point mule deer that was hanging on the back wall of the restaurant.

Now we always thought there was something fishy about that deer, and the fact that Toad wouldn't let him display the deer at the bait store was a dead give-away that it had been bagged in some nefarious manner or another. Only a few of us were out there with him and I was shocked to see how fast this giant was sobering.

With one final burst he shot through both doors and yelled, I only shot that deer because Harold said it was real. I swear I didn't know it was mechanized.

Ranger Claude slowly stood up and walked to the back wall eyeing the large deer; he took out his billy-club and tapped the antlers. He turned and faced Coonfoot and said, "This is not a mechanical deer".

Coonfoot scratched his head and replied, "Oh, the mechanical one me and Harold shot was hanging up above Toad's mantle at his cabin," and with that said, every one turned to see Toad, but all they saw was his backside heading out the side door.
