Fishing with Gus

Continued:

The rules were laid out, both boats would be set up just like for a catfishing tournament, tanks, rods, nets, and of course their fishing partner.

Toad had agreed to fish with Walter and Roger had his normal fishing partner J.C. Wiginbottom. Usually at our tournament, 15-20 boats is a real good turnout, but on this foggy morning I was shocked to see how many people had showed up. There were 200 boats at the ramp and a waiting line to launch, so I pulled over

Russell

Store video from Wal-Mart showed Brian Keith Russell at the cash register during the purchase charged to the victim's credit card.

During the investigation Russell was found to be in possession of a spoon with a burnt bottom and needles used to inject drugs.

Brian Keith Russell, 42, of Lovin Farm Court, Vonore, was charged with theft over $1000 and possession of drug paraphernalia. Officer Robert Klyce, TVAP made the arrest.

Garner

Sgt. Brian Jenkins LPD along with other officers answered a call on West Lee Hwy in reference to a male subject threatening other people with a gun. As the officers arrived they learned Garner was the alleged assailant. The victim reported Paul Garner and she had been involved in an argument and he threatened her with a gun. There were 2 air pistols and an air rifle hidden beside the trailer.

After being advised of his rights Garner stated he had hidden the guns. Bother Garner and another witness reported Tara Boggs had been harassing them by repeatedly knocking on their door after being told to stop.

Probable cause exists, the officer reported, that Garner threatened Boggs with one of these guns, despite her trespassing on his property, with the intention of causing her to fear imminent bodily injury. Sgt. Brian Jenkins LCSD made the arrest.

patch on his chest and a small white dot on his nose.

The officer reported he spoke with another person about the dog and they had checked with all the neighbors and no one had seen the canine. He further reported he also checked with several neighbors but had no luck either.

The dog is valued at $1400.

Application deadline for WMA quota hunts is July 23

The deadline for the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency's WMA big game quota hunts is fast approaching. Application must be made no later than midnight, July 23, 2008. Forms can be found at any TWRA license agent, TWRA regional office or online.

To apply, complete the information on the form and take it to any place where hunting and fishing licenses are sold. DO NOT MAIL THE FORM. When applying at a license agent, there is no fee for Lifetime Sportsman License holders, Annual Sportsman License holders or Seniors with a Type 167 permit. For all others, there is a $20 permit fee per drawing plus a $1 agent fee.

Hunters may also apply over the Internet. Sportsman License holders and seniors with a Type 167 permit will not be charged the Internet usage fee. All others, in addition to the $2 usage fee, will be charged a $20 permit fee per drawing plus 50 cents for each drawing entered. The $2 usage fee is collected by the company that maintains the Internet site.

Rules for applying are the same as last year for adults and youth. Youth, ages 6-16, may apply for separate youth hunts and in a party with adults for regular hunts, but these hunts must be applied for on separate applications.

Remember to read the information form carefully, fill out all requested information, double check the form, and take it to a license agent.

The priority system remains in effect. Anyone who applied last year, but was unsuccessful in the drawing has priority status. If you are on priority, be sure to apply alone or in a party that every member is on priority.

A common mistake is adding someone who does not have priority status. If this happens, the party will be included in the regular drawing.

onto the grass and started walking to the ramp.

Lo' and behold, there is Walter arguing with a little scrawny fellow. Lord at the arguing; seems that a big bass fishing club, FLOW, was scheduled to have their biggest bass tournament of the year here at our ramp and Walter wasn't about to share his glory with anyone.

The Bass fellow agreed to let us leave first and somehow or another Walter even talked him into starting the race.

Sven and Coonfoot headed up river to set up the finish line. They had agreed to race up to the Yacht Club. First boat to the dock wins and that is where the bet was to be settled.

We decided that the finish line was going to be where the excitement was so we headed out. We docked the boat and got out on the dock for a good view along with 50 other eager onlookers.

Now that yacht club must have thought, they were being invaded. Bass and Catfish boats hogging up all but 20 foot of that fancy dock and not nary one of us had a tie. ToadsBaitShop.com -Gus
