On the outskirts of Toad's farm, there is a very old cemetery. Most everyone around here knows somebody who has a story about that old creepy place. The county only mows it once a year, so for the most part it stays overgrown. Three years ago, there was a homeless man found to be living there and apparently, he had been for a few years, so it was decided to put up a fence up to keep out the riff raff and urban outdoorsman.

Right in the middle of that cemetery on the hill there is a big old Walnut tree. One day, two of the Sharp boys decided to get those walnuts, so they filled up a bucketful of nuts and sat down by the tree, out of sight, and began dividing the nuts.

"One for you, one for me, one for you, one for me," said Bill.

Several dropped and rolled down toward the fence.

Sven Peterson's boy came riding along the road on his bicycle. As he passed, he thought he heard voices from inside the cemetery.

He slowed down to investigate.

Sure enough, he heard, "One for you, one for me. One for you, one for me." He just knew what it was. He jumped back on his bike and rode off.

Just around the bend, he met an old Harold, the Do-It Yourself Abattoir. He had his cane and was hobbling along.

"Come here quick," said the boy, "You won't believe what I heard! Satan and the Lord are down at the cemetery dividing up the souls."

Harold said, "Beat it kid, can't you see it's hard for me to walk?"

When the boy insisted though, Harold hobbled slowly to the cemetery.

Standing by the fence they heard "One for you, one for me. One for you, one for me."

Harold whispered, "Boy, you've been tellin' me the truth. Let's see if we can see the Lord."

Shaking with fear, they peered through the fence, yet were still unable to see anything. Harold and the boy gripped the wrought iron bars of the fence tighter and tighter as they tried to get a glimpse of the Lord.

At last they heard, "One for you, one for me. That's all. Now let's go get those nuts by the fence and we'll be done."

They say that Harold made it back to town a full 5 minutes ahead of the kid on the bike. -Gus

Outbuilding burgled

Police were called to a Myers Road residence Monday when a property owner discovered a locked outbuilding on the premises had been burglarized and over $2000 worth of metals taken.

According to reports, Debbie Brown, Myers Road, told Deputy Chris Bowen, LCSD, she was evicting a man she identified from her house, also located along Myers Road and when she spoke with him on Friday he said he would be out on Friday. On Monday, however, an unidentified female who also lives on Myers Road said she was leaving for a dental appointment when she heard a lot of noise coming from the outbuilding on Brown's property and she could not identify who was in the building.

Another neighbor advised she saw the suspect leaving the property in a truck with a whole load of scrap metal on it.

Brown advised the outbuilding had a hasp and padlock on it and entry was forced causing damage to the door facing. Items missing include a wheel chair, a walker, an adult potty chair, a hospital bed, an antique cast iron bed, and a large, antique cast iron cook kettle.

The loss was valued at $2500.

Finger Foods for Toddlers

Children love feeding themselves. It gives them a sense of independence and helps them learn when they are full. Young children should eat a variety of foods to get the nutrients they need. Some healthful finger foods toddlers can feed themselves include:

* A baked potato cut in strips and dipped in low-fat ranch dressing

* Grilled chicken cut into strips with honey mustard sauce

* A bagel topped with pizza sauce and mozzarella cheese, toasted and sliced into strips

* Graham crackers dipped in applesauce

* Wedges of peeled apple, peach or pear with a yogurt dip.

Children also need plenty of time to eat. Don't force them to eat as fast as you might. Let them eat slowly, savor what they eat and learn when they are full.

Learning to make healthful eating choices and how to judge proper portions occurs very early in life.

Grant

Loudon County.

The grant funds will be used to add 12 street lights along the Wharf Street greenway that will connect the downtown area to the riverfront. Decorative lighting will be used to complement the historic character of downtown Loudon. The lighting will also enhance safety for pedestrians along the walking trail and will aesthetically complement the greenway.

"This project will enhance the Wharf Street Greenway and the areas surrounding the riverfront," said Governor Bredesen. "I am pleased the state is able to help fund this project to make this greenway safer and add to its historic charm."

"These grant funds will be used to enhance the safety of pedestrians along Wharf Street," said Senator Randy McNally. "I'm pleased to see the Governor and TDOT dedicating these funds to the city of Loudon."

The grant is made possible through a federally funded program administered by the Tennessee Department of Transportation.

"TDOT has funded more than $189 million in transportation related projects through our Enhancement Grant Program," said TDOT Commissioner Gerald Nicely. "This program provides funds to cities, counties and state organizations to fund activities such as the restoration of historic facilities, bike and pedestrian trails, landscaping, streetscaping and other non-traditional transportation projects."

The federal grant program was established by Congress in the early 1990's to fund activities designed to strengthen the cultural, aesthetic and environmental aspects of the nation's transportation system.

Representative Jimmy Matlock worked to secure these grant funds for Loudon County.
