Horoscopes

Capricorn

(Dec 22-Jan 20)

You're feeling much less serious than usual today and that's just right for most people

(see Horoscopes pg. 2)

This sign is on the door at the Dinner Bell on Hwy 321 in Lenoir City letting patrons know they are still open in Sweetwater, exit 62.

Horoscopes

and their energy. Have fun and play around with the folks around you -- then get back to work tomorrow.

Aquarius

(Jan 21-Feb 19)

You've got your own way of doing things and sometimes you need to just stick with it, no matter what. If anyone accuses you of being inflexible, just raise an eyebrow and keep moving.

Pisces

(Feb 20-Mar 20)

You're stuck between two competing points of view -- and you might hold them both yourself! That makes it easier for you to reconcile them, but it might take some effort to convince your peers you're right.

Aries

(Mar 21-Apr 20)

Arguments are flying around the workplace today and you're mixed up in quite a few of them. It may not be the best time for you to try to push forward with anything too out there, but you can't resist.

Taurus

(Apr 21-May 20)

You need to be extra-skeptical of anything that seems remotely sketchy today -- but don't just dismiss it out of hand! You have to ask probing questions and look for new evidence instead.

Gemini

(May 21-June 21)

Your social behavior is incredibly attractive today and you might play flirty games with almost everyone you encounter -- but you don't have to worry about keeping it appropriate this time!

Cancer

(Jun 22-Jul 22)

You've got to scope out the details of your latest project, whether it's a huge spreadsheet at work or a basement hobby. If you don't hammer them out now, they'll get you in the end.

Leo

(Jul 23-Aug 23)

Fall back on your people today when things start to look dire -- they've got more resources at their disposal than you may realize. It's a good time to strengthen your bonds together.

Virgo

(Aug 24-Sep 23)

You usually don't mind checking and re-checking details, but today you might feel tempted to skip over them for some reason. Don't do it! You've got to take things extra-slowly for now.

Libra

(Sept 24-Oct 23)

Any intellectual challenge you meet today should fall pretty quickly -- you can see flaws and strengths much more easily than usual. See if you can get your people to follow your lead.

Scorpio

(Oct 24-Nov 22)

You need to make sure that you're not just accepting everything you see today at face value. Read the fine print, ask big questions or get advice from someone who's been there before.

Sagittarius

(Nov 23-Dec 21)

Try to be a little more careful in your dealings with the people you work with the most closely -- it may be easier than usual to accidentally offend them or just to ask them the wrong question at the wrong time.

She was asked to perform field sobriety tasks which she did and allegedly performed poorly on. This was witnessed by Deputies Shane Ezell and Brian Blakney, LCSD.

Economy

Community is The Dinner Bell Restaurant which was a staple on Hwy 321 for several years. Ruby Tuesday has announced they will be closing some 70 locations across the country, however we haven't heard if the Lenoir City location will be affected. Several businesses have closed their doors across the area and we are not unaffected. Alcoa Aluminum and Sea Ray Boats have also laid off several of their workers.

On a positive note, our community has been fortunate in the fact we have seen a new Food City, several new restaurants, including Bojangles opening soon, and the new Redskins restaurant in Loudon, Ayala's on Hwy 321 is now open and others opening soon all of which will employ several local people.

As an effort to help this area with employment opportunities, we, The Daily Edition, are going to offer FREE Classified Ads for Employment Opportunities for the next month, and longer if necessary. This is to give employers a FREE way to let the people of Loudon County know you have a job opportunity for them. If you know any business that needs help please let them know just call us and we'll run the ad for FREE. People needs jobs, and were gonna do what we can to get people back to work and get our economy back on track. Our number is 865-771-2249.

Police Beat

On Sunday at approximately 3:05 a.m. Deputy Blakney, LCSD observed a dark colored sedan traveling south on Highway 11 run off the roadway almost hitting a ditch.

The officer turned around and started following the vehicle. It reportedly was swerving all over the road and traveled in the oncoming lane for approximately 100 yards.

Upon reaching a safe place to make a traffic stop on the vehicle the officer initiated his emergency equipment. The 2000 blue Ford Fusion pulled into a parking lot just before Meadow View Greenhouse.

The driver was identified as Rebecca Sue Miller, Kingston Street, Lenoir City. There reportedly was a very strong odor of an intoxicating beverage coming from the driver's side compartment.

Deputy Blakney reported he asked Ms. Miller to step out of the vehicle and while talking to her he could smell a strong odor of an intoxicating beverage coming from her breath and person. She stated she had one Gray Goose to drink.

Ms. Miller was alleged to be very unsteady on her feet and had to place her hand on the vehicle to help her balance. She was unable to perform field sobriety tasks correctly. Due to her condition it was a risk to her safety to continue the tasks.

Upon arrival at the jail, the Tennessee Implied Consent form was read to Miller in the presence of Cpl. Martin and Deputy D. Smith. She agreed to submit to a chemical test to determine the alcohol content of her blood.

Ms. Miller is accused of verbally abusing the other deputies and was asked to refrain but chose not to and had to be restrained by the corrections deputies.

Once the observation period was up for the intoximeter Miller was taken out of her restraints and it was then she refused to take the chemical test to determine the alcohol content in her blood.

Rebecca Sue Miller, 29 was charged with driving under the influence and violation of the implied consent law.

Public Records

public records. After a citizen makes more than four (4) requests per calendar month for copies of public records, records custodians are permitted, but not required, to no longer provide a free hour of labor beginning with the fifth request, according to The Policy on Frequent and Multiple Requests for Copies of Public Records.

The new policy expands upon the existing Schedule of Reasonable Charges for copies of public records which provides that a charge for labor may be assessed after one (1) hour is incurred producing requested copies of public records. If a custodian reasonably believes a group of individuals are acting in concert and chooses to group together their requests for copies for purposes of charging for labor, the custodian must file a Notice of Aggregation with the OORC. Citizens who do not agree with the grouping of requests for copies may appeal the decision to the OORC.

The Safe Harbor Policy provides that any fees assessed by a records custodian for copies or duplications and/or labor are presumed to be reasonable if assessed in accordance with the policies and guidelines established by the OORC. "This becomes important when a lawsuit is filed and the fees assessed by a records custodian are the subject of the suit," says Elisha Hodge, Open Records Specialist with the OORC. "We also developed nonbinding Best Practices Guidelines which embody what we believe to be a good roadmap to assist records custodians in responding to public records requests and in complying with the Tennessee Public Records Act," she explains.

Forms previously developed by the OORC have been updated to be consistent with the new policies. The forms include The Inspection/Duplication of Records Request, The Records Request Denial Letter, and The Records Production Letter.

"Citizens should be aware that records custodians are not allowed to charge for inspection of public records under the Tennessee Public Records Act, unless there is an exception in the law. However, they are permitted, but not required, to charge a requestor for actual costs incurred in producing a copy or duplication, unless statutorily set fees exist within the law," adds Hodge.

To find out more about the Office of Open Records Counsel and to view the policies, Best Practices Guidelines and forms, please visit www.tn.gov/comptroller/openrecords or call (615) 401-7891 or toll-free (866) 831-3750.
