Season

vest are at least 2 1/2 years of age or older," said Daryl Ratajczak, TWRA Big Game Coordinator. "That is proof positive the age structure in the Tennessee deer herd is extremely healthy."

Tennessee deer hunters are finding a big change to their 2009-10 seasons. A continuous 14-day muzzleloader season began Nov. 7 and continues to the opening day of gun season. Unit B hunters have the biggest increase in hunting opportunities as they will now follow the same season dates as Units A and L. The change means that East Tennessee hunters will have no more closed days during the middle of deer season.

No more than one antlered buck may be taken per day. The statewide bag limit for antlered bucks is three as the two-buck restriction in Unit B has been eliminated. An antlered buck is a buck with an antler measuring at least three inches long.

For antlerless deer hunting in Units A and B during this season, refer to the list of hunts on page 23 of the hunting guide. There are quota and non-quota hunts listed on that page with bag limits for each. For antlerless deer hunting in Units A and B during this season, refer to the list of hunts on page 23 of the 2009 Tennessee Hunting and Trapping Guide. There are quota and non-quota hunts listed on that page. The bag limit for antlerless deer in Unit L is three per day.

An Annual Sportsman, Lifetime Sportsman, Type 167 Permit, or Type 94 permit is required to harvest antlerless deer during this season on all non-quota hunts in Units A, B, and L.

TWRA personnel will be collecting data at various check-in stations across the state on Saturday. Antlered bucks will be measured and aged for management purposes.

Anyone born on or after January 1, 1969 is required to carry proof of satisfactory completion of a hunter education class or be in possession of the Apprentice Hunting License (along with other required licenses) while hunting any species in Tennessee.

For more information about Tennessee's deer hunting seasons, refer to the 2009 Tennessee Hunting and Trapping Guide available at all license agents or click on Hunting and Trapping Guide icon located on the lower portion of the front page on this Web site under the TWRA Guides at a Glance section.

a domestic violence assault at a residence on Uhdali Place. The officer couldn't get anyone to answer the door.

Sgt. Yokley, LCSO, arrived on scene and also knocked on the door and audibly announced Loudon County Sheriff's Department's arrival. Entry was gained through an unlocked door around the rear of the house.

Upon gaining entry deputies discovered a man and a woman in the main bedroom's closet. The deputies had to announce their presence multiple times before the couple finally emerged.

Upon speaking with them, it was discovered that Mr. Krathwohl and the female got into a verbal altercation which reportedly led to Mr. Krathwohl slinging his wife to the ground. She ran to dial 911 and Krathwohl hung the phone up and would not allow her to call again. Then Mr. Krathwohl forced her into the closet and would not allow her to leave. That is where the officers found the couple upon finally gaining entry to the home.
