the cause of death," said Dykes.

Salmonella bacteria are present in the gut of many wild and domestic birds and periods of stress can cause sickness or death.

"To try to narrow down the cause, we have collected bird seed samples from the affected areas to send to SCWDS for analysis as well," said Dykes.

It is recommended that people maintaining bird feeders should periodically empty the feeders and thoroughly wash them in a solution of one part bleach and nine parts water. Any dead birds found around the feeders should be buried to help prevent disease spread to other wildlife. Individuals should wear rubber gloves when handling sick or dead birds.

Tennessee Division of Consumer Affairs and THP Promote National Consumer Protection Week

Nashville, – The Tennessee Division of Consumer Affairs and the Tennessee Highway Patrol have joined forces to promote identity theft prevention as part of the 11th annual National Consumer Protection Week (NCPW), March 1-7.

On Saturday, March 7, from 12:00 p.m. until 3 p.m. (local time), Consumer Affairs and the THP are hosting shredding events at 15 locations across the state for citizens to safely shred and dispose of their personal and household records and documents. To protect your identity, please consider taking advantage of this free opportunity at these locations:

* Knoxville- THP Headquarters, 7601 Kingston Pike

wy

* Maryville- Drivers License Station, 318 Home Avenue

* Oak Ridge- Oak Ridge Police Department, 200 South Tulane Avenue

*Please note there is a 2 box maximum per vehicle. Newspaper and cardboard will not be accepted.

Members of the Tennessee Highway Patrol will be at each of the sites distributing information that includes other preventative measures during the shredding events. In addition, Consumer Affairs will have personnel available at the LP Field location to answer any questions.

"Identity theft is defined as when someone uses your personal information to commit a fraud or other crime," said Colonel Mike Walker of the Tennessee Highway Patrol. "Everyone is at risk of having their information stolen and misused regardless of their age or credit history."

According to the Federal Trade Commission, scam artists and fraudsters are likely to be using the economic downturn to take advantage of consumers who may be underwater financially. They estimate that more than 9 million identity thefts occurred in the United States last year and was the number one fraud reported in Tennessee. Therefore, Consumer Affairs and the Tennessee Highway Patrol want Tennesseans to learn more about these frauds and how to protect themselves.

"Our goal is to encourage consumers to shred old documents that contain personal information before discarding them, in an effort to deter identity thieves," said Mary Clement, Director of the Tennessee Division of Consumer Affairs.
