Winners

the June meeting of the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Commission at the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency Region II Ray Bell Building in Nashville.

The four winners, all Tennessee residents, were selected in a computer drawing from almost 13,000 entries for the elk hunt scheduled Oct. 19-23 at the North Cumberland Wildlife Area.

The participants in the historic hunt will be Craig Gardner, of Parrottsville, Charles Ray Flynn of Rockford, Ronald L. Woodard, of Oak Ridge, and Jeffrey L. Moses, of Cleveland. Greg Wathen, Chief, TWRA Wildlife Division, announced the winners.

The fifth participant will be the recipient of a permit that is donated to a Non-Governmental Organization which this year is the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Foundation. The TWRF will auction its permit in July as part of a fund-raising project benefiting future elk restoration in Tennessee.

In other business at the June meeting, a new rule concerning the apprentice hunting license was approved. The apprentice hunting license is required for all hunters age 10 years or older who have not completed the mandatory hunter education course. The new rule will have the license expiring one year from the date of purchase. The apprentice hunting license can only be purchased once in a hunter's lifetime. The previous rule had the license running with the license year, March through the end of the February.

David McKinney, TWRA Chief, Environmental Services, and Wathen, presented an agency report on the recently completed an assessment of the potential impacts of a warming climate on fish and wildlife in Tennessee. The document includes an extensive review of the current scientific literature from a projected warming climate to fish and wildlife and their habitats, and a plan for priority adaptation strategies.

The TWRC repealed the proclamation establishing Holly Fork WMA in Henry County. The area known as the Holly Fork WMA is being operated as a shooting range complex, and is no longer functioning as a WMA. Some of the lands that have been acquired as part of the Holly Fork project will continue to be open to hunting as a part of West Sandy WMA.

The harvest of turtles was discussed and the discussion will continue at the August meeting. State Malacologist Don Hubbs and TWRA Region II Habitat Biologist, David Sims, presented a historical perspective and current status of the commercial mussel fishery primarily on Kentucky Lake, and the Agency's efforts to conserve and restore native mussels.

The TWRC meeting will not meet in July. The TWRC next meeting will be held August 20-21 at Paris Landing State Park. The meetings days will be a Thursday and Friday, a change from the regular Wednesday-Thursday schedule.

self, her mother and her 3-year-old child. The victim was leaving the scene and en route to Lenoir City High school.

Upon arrival at the school the victim stated to the deputy she had went to the suspect's residence to retrieve their child for a doctor's appointment. Upon her arrival the victim reported she and her sister went to the door and knocked. The suspect answered the door and the small child exited the residence and went to her mother. The victim then picked up the child and started to the car. Huffine then followed the victim to the car where an argument ensued. Huffine then reached in the car and took the child out of the car. The victim then attempted to regain the child and at some point a small dog began to attack the victim. Huffine, during an interview, admitted to telling the dog "to get her." The victim finally regained control of the child and placed the child into her vehicle and began to leave the area.

Upon the victim leaving the residence the suspect picked up some type of rock and threw it toward the vehicle striking the vehicle at the rear near the drivers side taillight. Deputy Bowen then went to the residence and interviewed Huffine and after taking his statement determined Huffine to be the primary aggressor.

Jessie Ray Huff-

ine, 22, of Norwood Street, Lenoir City was charged with aggravated domestic assault. Deputy Chris Bowen, LCSO made the arrest.

Think before you speak

Have you ever spoken and wished that you could immediately take the words back? Or that you could crawl into a hole? Here are Testimonials of five people who did....

1st Testimony

I walked into a hair salon with my husband and three kids in tow and asked loudly, 'How much do you charge for a shampoo and a blow job?' I turned around and walked back out and never went back. My husband didn't say a word. He knew better....

2nd Testimony

I was at the golf store comparing different kinds of golf balls. I was unhappy with the women's type I had been using. After browsing for several minutes, I was approached by one of the good-looking gentlemen who works at the store. He asked if he could help me.

Without thinking, I looked at him and said,

'I think I like playing with men's balls'

3rd Testimony

My sister and I were at the mall and passed by a store that sold a variety of candy and nuts. As we were looking at the display case, the boy behind the counter asked if we needed any help. I replied, 'No, I'm just looking at your nuts.' My sister started to laugh hysterically. The boy grinned, and I turned beet-red and walked away. To this day, my sister has never let me forget.

4th Testimony

While in line at the bank one afternoon, My toddler decided to release some pent-up energy and ran amok. I was finally able to grab hold of her after receiving looks of disgust and annoyance from other patrons. I told her that if she did not start behaving 'right now' she would be punished. To my horror, she looked me in the eye and said in a voice just as threatening, 'If you don't let me go right now, I will tell Grandma that I saw you Kissing Daddy's pee-pee last night!' The silence was deafening after this enlightening exchange. Even the tellers stopped what they were doing. I mustered up the last of my dignity and Walked out of the bank with my daughter in tow. The last thing I heard when the door closed behind me, were screams of laughter.

5th Testimony

Have you ever asked your child a question too many times? My three-year-old son had a lot of problems with potty training and I was on him constantly. One day we stopped at Taco Bell for a quick lunch, in between errands. It was very busy, with a full dining room. While enjoying my taco, I smelled something funny, so of course I checked my seven-month-old daughter, she was clean. Then realized that Danny had not asked to go potty in a while. I asked him if he needed to go, and he said 'No.' I kept thinking, 'Oh Lord, that child has had an accident, and I don't have any clothes with me.' Then I said, Danny, are you SURE you didn't have an accident?' 'No,' he replied. I just KNEW that he must have had an accident, because the smell was getting worse. Soooooo, I asked one more time, 'Danny did you have an accident?' This time he jumped up, yanked down his pants, Bent over, spread his cheeks And yelled 'SEE MOM, IT'S JUST FARTS!!' while 30 people nearly choked to death on their tacos laughing. He calmly pulled up his pants and sat down. An old couple made me feel better, thanking me for the best laugh they'd ever had!
