"Not mine" didn't work for local pair

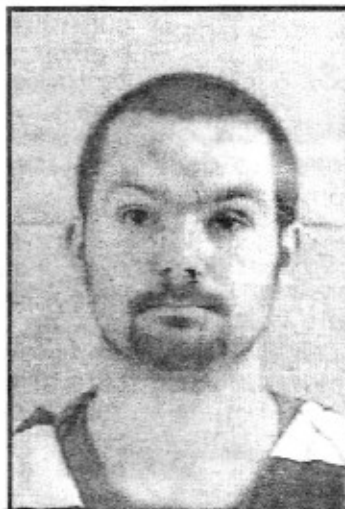

Two local men reportedly told police they had never seen the gold box with the scheduled narcotics in it when they were pulled over for the driver not wearing a seat belt. The explanation didn't help and the pair found themselves in jail on drug and traffic charges.

Jimmy Leon Rolon, 28, Foster Road, Lenoir City, was charged with driving on suspended license and possession of schedule II Oxycodone.

Busted

According to records, Wednesday, at approximately 3:25pm, Patrolman James R. Bowman, LCPD stopped a black 1993 Chevy S-10 pickup for the driver not wearing a seat belt while driving in the Silver Hills Apartments parking lot. The driver was identified as Jimmy Leon Rolon.

Upon running his information through NCIC, it showed Rolon's drivers license are suspended for failure to satisfy.

After placing Mr. Rolon into custody an inventory search was performed on the vehicle. A small, gold, wooden box was discovered, which reportedly contained three white pills with an M on one side and the number 15 on the other identified as Oxycodone and one blue pill with the letter A and the numbers 215 on the same side identified as Oxycodone.

Officer Bowman asked Mr. Rolon if the box or the pills belonged to him and he allegedly stated, "No, I have never seen them before."

Justin Brooks Reynolds, 27, Browder Hollow Road, Lenoir City, was charged

Wednesday with possession of schedule II Oxycodone.

According to the report, Justin B. Reynolds was a passenger in the Chevy S-10 and also owns the vehicle. The small, gold box with the pills inside that was found in the truck was allegedly within arm's reach of Mr. Reynolds.

Officer Bowman asked Mr. Reynolds if the box or the pills belonged to him and he also reportedly said "No, I have never seen them before."

No License

Monday at approximately 12:47 a.m., Sgt. Lynette Ladd, LCPD observed Mr.

Gonzalez driving a 2009 Ford Mustang on Highway 11 with no seat belt and noticed the license plate on the vehicle was not properly secured.

Upon being stopped, Gonzalez did not have a driver's license and could not show valid proof of insurance.

DUI at .08%

Hayne Lewis Gersbach, 24, East Summit Circle, Knoxville was charged with DUI 1st offense.

According to records, Sunday at approximately 2:39 a.m., Officer Bennie Houser, LPD was traveling east on Highway 72 when he noticed a black Nissan 350Z straddle the center lines and drift from the emergency lane to the center lane. After stopping the vehicle and identifying the driver as Hayne Lewis Gersbach, the officer advised Mr. Gersbach why he stopped him and asked to see his license, registration and proof of insurance.

Gersbach handed Officer Houser his license and insurance card, stating his insurance card was his registration. Mr. Gersbach said he missed the entrance to the Interstate.

Gersbach allegedly had a strong odor of an intoxicant about his person and stated to the officer he hadn't been drinking. Then he said he had a few drinks at a party, then changed it again and said he had two beers.

Mr. Gersbach did poorly on all field sobriety tasks he was given. He was read the implied consent and agreed. Gersbach's blood alcohol content was .08%.

No beer results in assault

Dennis Dewayne Plemons, 32, Sweetwater

Road, Philadelphia, was charged with domestic assault.

According to reports, Friday, around 7:30 p.m., Patrolwoman April Farmer, and Sgt. Brian Jenkins, LPD received a call of a domestic dispute on Highway 72 at Prospect Church Road. Upon arrival, the officer spoke to a woman who stated she and her boyfriend, Dewayne Plemons reportedly got into an argument because she refused to buy him any beer.

According to the girlfriend, while traveling west down Highway 72 Plemons, reached over and turned the car off and tried to take the key out of the ignition. The woman further stated she put the car in park and fought with him to keep him from getting the key.

The woman said she tried to make Mr. Plemons get out of the car and he refused.

According to Officer Farmer, when they arrived at the scene she observed the vehicle still sitting in the middle of Highway 72 and both parties were outside the vehicle arguing.

Patrolwoman April Farmer, LPD placed Mr. Plemons under arrest for domestic assault.
