Tennessee Joins Top U.S. Electric Vehicle Plan

NASHVILLE - The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) said that Tennessee is one of five states participating in what is being described as "the largest deployment of electric vehicles and charging infrastructure ever undertaken."

The State of Tennessee's role in the project is an outgrowth of Governor Phil Bredesen's conversations with Nissan North America, Oak Ridge National Laboratory (ORNL), the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA), and other public and private partners committed to promoting the use of zero-around 12:00 midnight, Officer Charles Turner, TVAP observed a black Chevy by the Fort Loudon Hydro entrance in Loudon County. The vehicle went over into the officer's lane, forcing him off the roadway.

Williams

Officer Turner followed the Chevy for approximately 1/2 mile. During that time, the vehicle crossed the fog line five times and each time the vehicle jerked abruptly back into it's lane.

When the vehicle approached Grand Street it slid through the intersection, then continued on Grand Street before stopping in the roadway.

The officer activated his lights and called in to TVAP Dispatch. The driver was identified as Timothy L. Williams.

Williams had the odor of an intoxicant on his person and stated he drank five mixed drinks. He performed poorly on sobriety tasks and after being arrested, he agreed to a breath test to determine the alcohol content of his blood.

Mr. Williams registered .20%.

erty, and to do a welfare check on a white male.

Upon arrival, officers discovered Bobby Littleton lying in the floor and had difficulty waking him. Littleton appeared to be under the influence of drugs and / or alcohol.

A pat down was conducted for safety purposes. Upon patting

Littleton's back pocket, what appeared to be a hypodermic syringe was felt.

Littleton was charged with possession of drug paraphernalia and criminal trespassing. Littleton was alone in the room and was not the person who rented the room, which should have been vacated at 12 Noon.

Dailey

According to records, Friday, around 3:55 p.m., Deputy Chad Petty, LCSO was dispatched to a "rolling domestic" involving a person in the front passenger seat hitting people in the car. The vehicle was described as an older model white Thunderbird, which was around the area of Highway 321 traveling towards Highway 11. The officer spotted the vehicle and activated his emergency equipment and stopped it on Highway 321 at Taco Bell.

The driver stated the person in the front passenger seat, Tristan S. Dailey, was very intoxicated and was trying to hit the person in the back seat.

Deputy Petty spoke with Mr. Dailey and he advised he was attempting to hit the back seat person because he didn't want him in the car anymore.

According to the officer's report, he noticed a strong odor of alcohol on Mr. Dailey. Dailey had slurred speech and bloodshot eyes. If left in public, Mr. Dailey would have been a risk to the persons in the vehicle, including a newly born child.
