The Backdoor Gallery

The Backdoor Gallery, recently purchased by Evelyn Murphy, is bringing more excitement to Broadway in Lenoir City. For years, it has been a dream of Evelyn and her husband, Audie Murphy, to open their own store. This dream has now become a reality! In case you are wondering, this is not the same Audie Murphy from World War tionally restrain the victim, while Collin Bennett and friend, Jeremiah Burchfield, could assault victim numerous times by striking him with a ball bat and a black pistol.

Victim sustained injuries to his forehead and left eye as well as ball bat strikes to

During this altercation the three suspects told victim that they were going to kill him.

The suspects took without consent his camouflage real tree wallet.

There were no items of value taken other than the wallet which was valued at $20.00. Victim subsequently went to Ft. Loudoun Medical Center Emergency Room where doctors ordered imaging due to a concern of potentially life threatening injuries to his liver.

During the assault and robbery, victim was in fear for his life and sustained serious bodily injury. This occurred in Loudon County, Tennessee.

II, but you might be able to convince him to give you his autograph if you can catch him down there helping Evelyn out in his spare time. The Backdoor Gallery is located at 105 West Broadway in Lenoir City, TN.

The framing business is taking a huge leap into the future! They have also purchased another full gallery and additional updated equipment to add to the existing business. In addition to traditional framing, they can provide custom mats with specialty cuts such as the Lenoir City Panther head.

As you walk in the front door, you will be welcomed by Sweet Lime Boutique owned by Rebekah Hamby, their daughter. The boutique is featuring women's clothing, shoes, handbags, and jewelry. New arrivals are being added weekly as she builds her inventory. Rebekah is offering items for everyone from teenagers to adult women. She is sure to have something that you will love.

As you make your way towards the back of the room, you will see an entire line of custom clothes and accessories for your pet family. These items are custom hand-made by Evelyn's Fu-Fu Designs, another passion of Evelyn. Pandie, the family Shih Tzu, will be modeling her clothing line for you when you visit the store.

Right next to the adorable pet clothing rack, you will see hand-sewn items custom made by Daisies Sew Crafty. These items are handmade by another daughter, Mary Brogdon. You will find baby quilts, custom corn hole bags, and many other custom items.

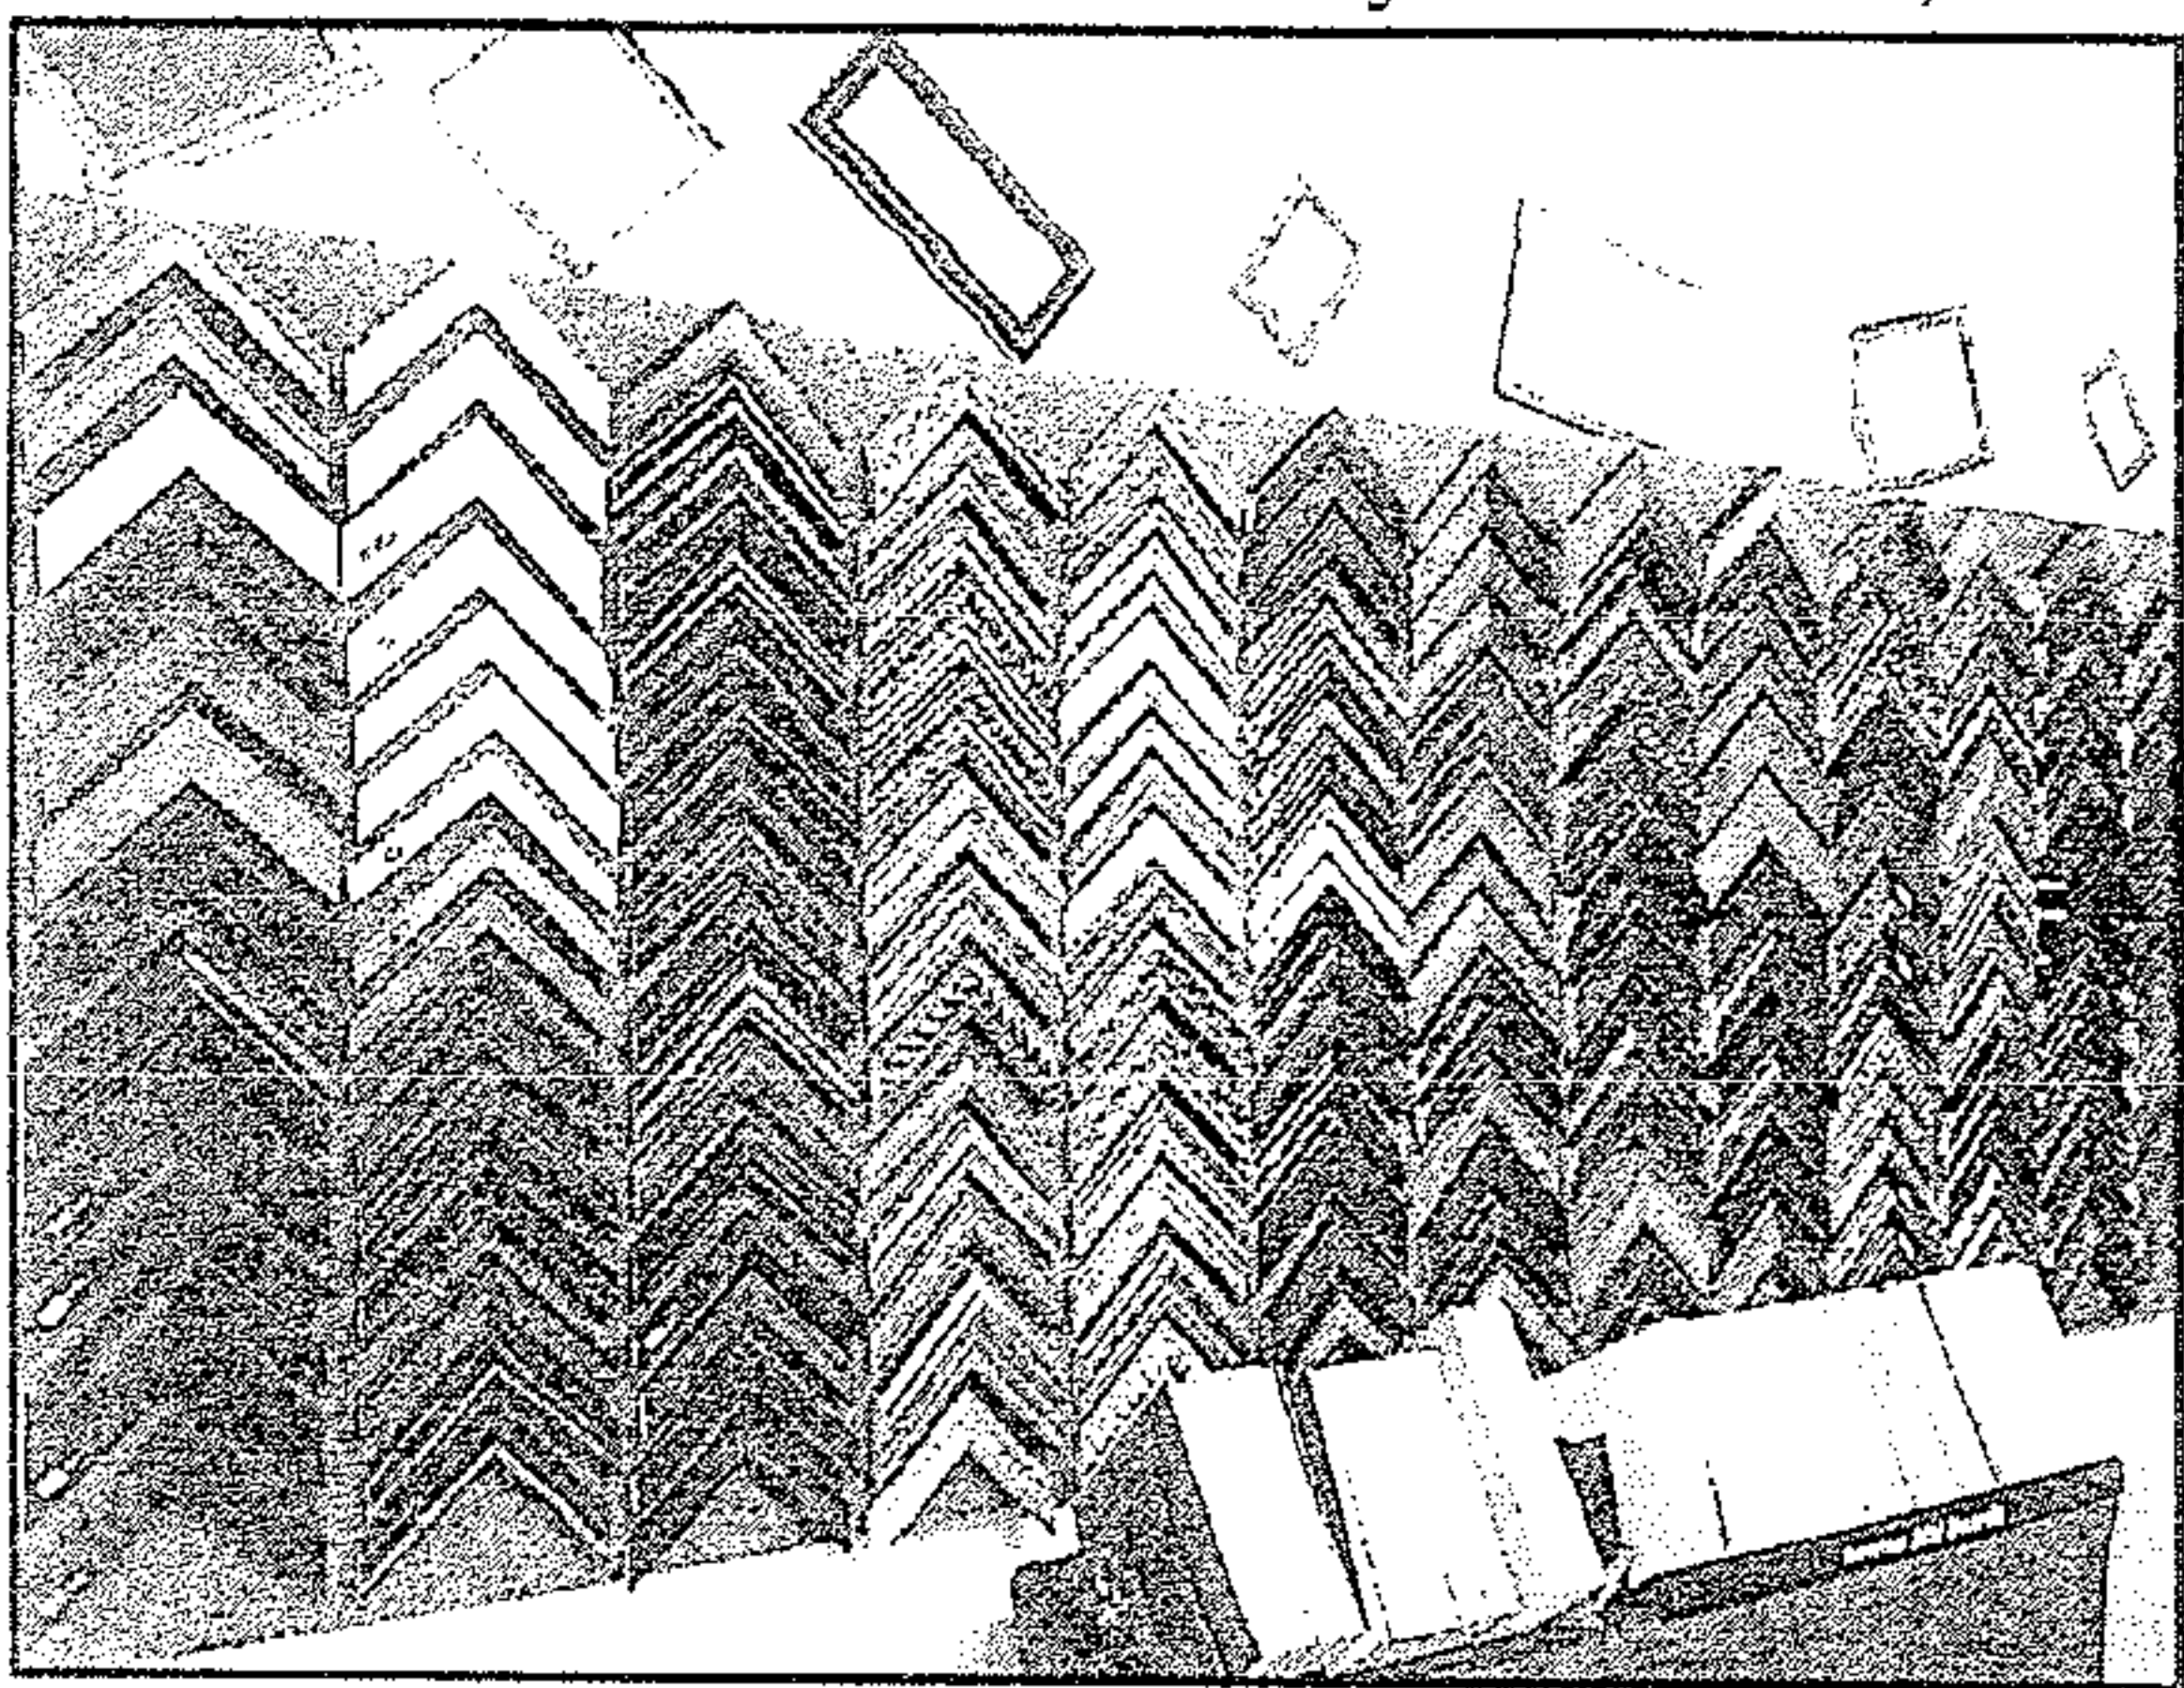

You will now make your way into the gallery room of The Backdoor Gallery. With tons of custom framing and mat options to choose from, you will be sure to find anything that you need to match the current décor of your home. Along the walls, you will find various art and prints available for purchase.

As you come around the corner in the gallery, you will find photography prints and canvas photography from Capture My Heart by Rachel Leah. Rachel is another daughter who has joined the family group in the gallery. She is featuring local photography along with photography from other areas of the country, including custom photo shoots.

Evelyn is very excited to welcome you to her new gallery and looks forward to seeing you all. Go check them out at www.facebook.com/thebackdoorgalleryinlc for news about their new store and updates on special downtown events as they happen. Lenoir City on Broadway is growing with lots of new businesses opening recently to accommodate anything that you desire.
