Children's Cabinet Seeks Nominations for Governor's Awards for Excellence in Early Foundations

Seeking Nominations for Projects Supporting Tennessee School Readiness Model

Tennessee Gov. Bill Haslam and First Lady Crissy Haslam today announced the Tennessee Children's Cabinet is accepting nominations for the 2018 Governor's Awards for Excellence in Early Foundations. These awards were created to recognize collaborative and innovative projects that are helping Tennessee students enter the classroom prepared to learn.

"In Tennessee, we believe an education is the pathway to a better future, and that begins with our youngest citizens," Governor Haslam said. "These awards give us the opportunity to honor the many community agencies and partners across the state who help Tennessee children succeed and start school prepared to learn."

The Tennessee School Readiness Model describes goals to help Tennessee students enter the classroom prepared to be successful. It provides indicators of what communities, schools and families need to do to promote children's early learning and development. "Readiness" is not seen solely as a condition within a child but is a condition that exists when communities, schools, and families create a nurturing environment for child development starting at birth.
