'Sergeant Chris Jenkins Law' signed by Gov. Bill Lee

Governor Bill Lee signed the "Sergeant Chris Jenkins Law," named in honor of the Loudon County Sheriff's Office Deputy who was hit and killed in February 2022 when he was responding to a report of a ladder in the roadway.

The law makes it an offense for someone to operate a vehicle on a public roadway and carry an item in an open bed or trailer without it being adequately secured, according to the Tennessee General Assembly website.

Specifically, the law makes it a Class C Misdemeanor to transport an item weighing more than 2.2 pounds (one kilogram) in an open bed vehicle or trailer without it being

Increased Use of Telehealth Services and Medications for Opioid Use Disorder During the COVID-19 Pandemic Associated with Reduced Risk for Fatal Overdose

Study findings support the continuation of providing telehealth services for opioid use disorder and its related care

The expanded availability of opioid use disorder-related telehealth services and medications during the COVID-19 pandemic was associated with a lowered likelihood of fatal drug overdose among Medicare beneficiaries, according to a new study.

"The results of this study add to the growing research documenting the benefits of expanding the use of telehealth services for people with opioid use disorder, as well as the need to improve retention and access to medication treatment for opioid use disorder," said lead author Christopher M. Jones,

PharmD, DrPH, Director of the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control, CDC. "The findings from this collaborative study also highlight the importance of working across agencies to identify successful strategies to address and get ahead of the constantly evolving

Shooting

At the request of 9th Judicial District Attorney General Russell Johnson, TBI special agents continue to investigate the shooting of a man during an encounter with a trooper from the Tennessee Highway Patrol.

Preliminary information indicates the shooting occurred at approximately 4:30 Thursday afternoon, as law enforcement officers were arriving to the scene of a shooting at a body shop in the Midtown community. The trooper encountered the suspect, who was armed with a handgun, in the nearby front yard of an abandoned house, in the 100 block of Dogwood Lane. There, the suspect turned toward the trooper in an aggressive fashion as he raised his gun, after which the trooper fired his service weapon, striking and injuring the suspect, who was subsequently hospitalized. No law enforcement officers were hurt in the incident.

At this time, this investigation remains active and ongoing. TBI agents are working to independently determine the series of events leading to the shooting, including collecting evidence and conducting interviews. Throughout the process, investigative findings will be shared with the District Attorney General for his further review and consideration. The TBI acts solely as fact-finders in its cases and does not determine whether the actions of an officer were justified in these types of matters. That decision rests with the District Attorney General requesting TBI's involvement.

The TBI does not identify the officers involved in these types of incidents and instead refers questions of that nature to their respective department to answer as it sees fit.

secured by a web-derived strap or a ladder without two lateral straps at both ends of the ladder. The law also states that items weighing less than 2.2 pounds being transported must be contained with a fiber netting or web-derived strap to keep it in the open bed or trailer.

In February 2022, Jenkins was hit by a tractor-trailer on I-75 north as he exited his patrol vehicle while answering a call for a ladder in the roadway according to an arrest report. According to the report, the driver of the tractor-trailer was "clinically under the influence of marijuana" when the crash happened.

According to a previous report, Jenkins used his cruiser as a rolling roadblock while clearing the roadway, but the truck driver failed to slow down and struck two vehicles, Jenkins' patrol cruiser and Jenkins.

While the tractor-trailer driver faced charges including vehicular homicide by intoxication, the truck driver who failed to secure the ladder he was transporting that Jenkins was attempting to remove was also charged. The man plead guilty to three counts of reckless endangerment and a one count of driving on a suspended license in September 2022.

The bill was introduced in the State Senate on January 25, 2023, and it passed unanimously five days later. The bill also passed the House unanimously on March 13.

Lee signed the bill into law on March 23. The bill was sponsored by Rep. Lowell Russell in the house and Senators Adam Lowe, Becky Duncan Massey and Randy McNally in the senate.

Bully

Michael Feistner, 54, Shaw Ferry Lane Lenoir City, was charged with Aggravated Burglary, and Aggravated Assault.

Deputies with LCSO, were dispatched to Shaw Ferry Lane regarding an assault. Upon arrival, Deputies made contact with complainant who stated his dad, the victim, had been assaulted by the neighbor Michael Feistner. Complainant stated there was a verbal altercation in the roadway between victim and Michael's wife. Victim stated he was in the roadway on his lawn mower with his granddaughter when neighbor pulled up behind him in her vehicle trying to go around. Victim pulled to the side and said he needed to pull over and let her over before he made her mad. Neighbor stated victim was in the roadway on his mower with his granddaughter when she pulled up behind him, he pulled to the side and said, "I better move out of the way before this bitch...". The neighbor got out and said to the victim that was rude and completely uncalled for, the victim ignored her and moved on. The neighbor went into her house to tell Michael, Michael then came over to victims house, entered his garage and grabbed the victim by his throat and threw him up against the wall, and threatened to beat him up for cussing at his wife. Michael did admit to Deputies that he physically assaulted the victim in his home by grabbing him around the throat. Michael was taken into custody and transported to the Loudon County Justice Center without incident, all events occurred in Loudon County.

Police Beat

Ronnie Green, 39, Douglas Drive Athens, was charged with Simple Possession.

Officer Ingram LPD, was dispatched to a suspicious person at the Love's Truck Stop on Hwy 72 in Loudon. Upon arrival, the Officer made contact with a Mr.

Ronnie Green II who was running around in the parking lot with his shirt off. One of the store employees advised the Officer that he had been screaming at customers and employees. Mr. Green was ultimately placed into custody, and while doing a tow inventory for the wrecker service, an unknown amount of a leafy, green substance believed to be marijuana was located. Mr. Green was transported to the Loudon County Jail without incident. This did occur in the City of Loudon.

CDC overdose crisis.”

Published today in JAMA Psychiatry, this study is a collaborative research effort led by researchers at the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control, a part of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC); the Office of the Administrator and the Center for Clinical Standards and Quality, both part of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS); and the National Institute on Drug Abuse, a part of the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

“CMS is committed to ensuring that the beneficiaries we serve can access the high-quality behavioral health services they need,” said senior author Dr. Shari Ling, M.D., Deputy Chief Medical Officer at CMS. “This study shows that many beneficiaries were able to utilize opioid use disorder-related telehealth services during the pandemic, but we need to continue our efforts to broaden the use of telehealth, particularly in underserved communities.”

In this national study, researchers analyzed data among two cohorts of Medicare beneficiaries to explore receipt of opioid use disorder-related telehealth services, receipt of medications for opioid use disorder, and fatal overdoses before and during the COVID-19 pandemic. To do this, they compared data from two cohorts of Medicare beneficiaries across two time periods. The first cohort was constructed with data from September 2018-February 2020 and included 105,162 Medicare beneficiaries with opioid use disorder (the “pre-pandemic cohort”). The second cohort was constructed with data from September 2019-February 2021 and included 70,479 Medicare beneficiaries with opioid use disorder, (the “pandemic” cohort). In addition, the researchers conducted an analysis to examine the demographic and clinical characteristics associated with fatal overdose in the pandemic cohort.

Key findings of this study include:

Medicare beneficiaries that began a new episode of opioid use disorder-related care during the pandemic and received opioid use disorder-related telehealth services were found to have a 33% lower risk of a fatal drug overdose.

Medicare beneficiaries who received medications for opioid use disorder from opioid treatment programs (OTP) and those who received buprenorphine, one of the medications for opioid use disorder, in office-based settings also had reduced odds of a fatal drug overdose of 59% and 38%, respectively.

Mortality rates (classified as all-cause mortality and drug overdose mortality specifically) were higher in the pandemic cohort compared to the pre-pandemic cohort; however, the percentage of deaths due to drug overdose were similar between the two cohorts.

“At a time when more than 100,000 Americans are now dying annually from a drug overdose, the need to expand equitable access to lifesaving treatment, including medications for opioid use disorder, has never been greater,” said Wilson Compton, M.D., M.P.E., deputy director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse and senior author of the study. “Research continues to indicate that expanded access to telehealth is a safe, effective, and possibly even lifesaving tool for caring for people with opioid use disorder, which may have a longer-term positive impact if continued.”

Although the results of this study were able to identify the positive impact opioid use disorder-related telehealth services had on lowering the risk for fatal drug overdose in the pandemic cohort, the authors note that only 1 in 5 Medicare beneficiaries in the pandemic cohort received OUD-related telehealth services. Similarly, only 1 in 8 beneficiaries in the pandemic cohort received medications for opioid use disorder. These findings underscore the need for continued expansion of these potentially life-saving interventions across clinical settings.

Horoscopes

estate, looms on the horizon. A young visitor may come to your home today, as well as an important letter or call. In the evening, visit an older friend or relative.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

You may feel a little out of sorts today, Taurus. Perhaps you indulged a bit too much last night. However, some exciting phone calls at midday might perk you up, perhaps good news from a friend or colleague. A change in your financial state is definitely indicated, as is the resulting boost to your self-esteem. All looks wonderful for you in the months to come!

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Your hard work is finally paying off, Gemini. A phone call bring good news to you. You should be filled with a new sense of optimism, enthusiasm, and hope. Work will be more of a pleasure than a drag, because you have something to look forward to. Changes are definitely in the wind for you, so be prepared for just about anything!

Cancer 6/21-7/22

You're a hard worker, Cancer, with a good business head and strong practical sense. However, success in the past few weeks might have you thinking about doing something more innovative to earn your money, possibly something to do with the opportunities surrounding the Internet. Business and personal communication of all kinds should come to you during this auspicious period.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Some strange phone calls might come your way, perhaps from people you don't know. Investments in real estate, particularly the home, should pay off now. You could also decide to make a new investment in this area. Follow your hunches, Leo. Don't let your usual logic get in the way! Your mind is especially receptive to messages from other realms now. Make the most of it.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

A long-awaited and very welcome call from an older friend might finally come your way today, Virgo. News that a goal you've been working toward has finally been reached could come as well. You're optimistic about the future. The ambition that has served you well in the past will continue to do so. You will probably entertain some visitors. It will mean work, but you will have a great time.

Libra 9/23-10/22

The near future looks great for you, with auspicious omens for success and good fortune regarding career and money. All the hard work that you've done in the past may finally be paying off. Advancement is on the horizon, as well as increased income and much happiness. All signs are that you won't stop there. You're more likely to continue working toward new, more challenging goals.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Today's celestial energy could find you making plans to travel for pleasure or possibly business. A young friend or relative might accompany you. You're likely to accomplish whatever you hope to on the trip, Scorpio. All signs are for success and good fortune. You might even aim for a new position. This is an excellent period to open up your own business.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Financial benefits may come your way through channels you've never dreamed of. This could have to do with investments, settlements, or insurance benefits. Pleasant recurring dreams may come your way, bringing insights to your past and giving rise to new self-awareness. Someone from the past you haven't seen for a long time may suddenly reappear. This should be a pleasant surprise.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

A friend might approach you with the idea of forming a partnership, and even propose drawing up a tentative agreement. This is definitely something worth looking into, Capricorn, although you should consider all the facts before committing. Success and good fortune are definitely in the works, whether through this partnership or not. Expect an important call from a romantic partner.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

You can look forward to a new sense of purpose and higher morale, Aquarius. Ambition, diligence, and a lot of hard work could pay off now. You could soon be reaping in the benefits. You're feeling strong, fit, and physically healthy, as if you could seize the world in your two hands. This is a great time to take the next step in your personal relationship.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

If you've been thinking about going back to school for a degree of some kind, Pisces, this is the time to start the process. Success and good fortune through your own initiative and through increasing your skills are definitely indicated now. A journey you've wanted to take for some time may finally be possible, as could achievements in the fields of writing and speaking. Go for it!
